WEATHER OUTLOOK
Clear to partly cloudy today with high about 85. Light rain and showers Tuesday. Low tonight near 70. High Tuesday about 80. Warm weather today Wednesday through Friday. High in the low to mid-80s, low in the upper 60s to mid-70s. Light chance of showers Wednesday or Thursday.

Expo hall approved

The Illinois General Assembly during the weekend completed favorable action on establishment of a large exposition hall and cultural events center in Madison-St. Clair County.

Whether Gov. Dan Walker will sign the legislation remains uncertain. The $15 million development probably would be located on the campus of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

The Assembly's action was one of a number affecting this session as the regular 1974 session drew toward a scheduled close at midnight last night.

Deliberations are continuing today at Springfield. Instead of stopping the clock as in the past, legislators are reorganizing the June 30 deadline by requiring three-fifths support rather than a majority on all bills adopted today.

Among the proposals still awaiting action this morning was one to give March primary election winners another chance to receive economic interest statements. About 100 throughout the state failed to do so, including all major St. Clair County nominees, jeopardizing their placement on the November general election ballot.

The General Assembly last night voted to raise the Illinois usury rate on residential mortgages from 9 1/2 percent, recognizing the current upward trend in interest rates.

Among bills adopted was one calling an election in November on whether to dissolve the East Side Levee and Sanitary District and replace it with a new district effective in December 1976. The Quad-Cities would continue to have only two board positions, with the other three levee posts filled from the East St. Louis-Canton Township area.

The five would be chosen by the two County Board chairmen, at least two would be Republicans.

Rep. Monroe Flinn, sponsor, is predicting that Gov. Walker will sign the bill calling for a levee district referendum. The legislature allocated $3,200,000 for the Bi-State Transit System to provide both the local and state shares of the cost of partially subsidizing bus

City marks streets for traffic control

A program of painting lines on major streets in Granite City where speeding has been a problem began Thursday and is to continue this week.

The lines, being painted by the city's painter, Tom Reynolds, under supervision of Street Superintendent Lionel Portell, will be used to assist Granite City police in using the Visual Average Speed Computer and Recorder (VASCAR) system which calculates the speeds of moving cars.

VASCAR requires that it be aimed at a stationary point or object as well as the moving car. The unit then calculates the difference in movement between the stationary point and the car to determine the speed the auto is traveling. Formerly, trees, shadows or other things were used, but Chief of Police Ronald Veizer said the lines on the roadway will provide the best possible points for aiming the VASCAR units.

The white lines, eight inches wide and eight feet long, centered on the middle of the roadway are placed 150 feet apart in areas where excessive speeding has been observed. Officers then may focus the VASCAR in the 150 foot section between lines and accurately determine the speeds of moving autos.

The system is an officially accepted method for use with VASCAR and will eliminate surveys in contested speeding cases, Veizer said. Either completed or due to be completed soon in the first phase of the program are lines on Pontoon Road between Primrose and Wabash avenues; Pontoon Road between Stearns and Vesce avenues; much of Madison Avenue; Nameoki Road between Pershing and Palmer avenues; Nameoki Road from Leonard Avenue to Wilson Avenue; Nameoki Road at Herbert St., and the 1900 block of Edwardsville Road.

Subsequent phases should include other major roads in Granite City, Veizer said.

Pontoon sewer problems

The Pontoon Beach Village Board Thursday night voted to seek bids for cleaning sanitary sewer lines from the Quiet Valley subdivision to the Quiet Valley Lagoon.

The board also agreed to have the Quiet Valley storm sewers cleaned because of sand which has been appearing in the line. The trustees indicated they felt the sand is seeping into the line through faulty joints, but said they wanted the system checked to be sure there are no breaks or major problems.

Also to be checked is a storm water line in the Lakeview Estates subdivision.

Bids will be sought for screens to act as sand and debris traps at the catch basin in Lakeview Estates, the trustees agreed.

Ron Hastings, village sanitary engineer, told the trustees that a new pump has been installed and is in operation in the Quiet Valley Lagoon. It should increase the flow from the sanitary sewers in the subdivision, he said.

The annual audit of the village's books was completed and the auditors recommended that the village treasurer's bond be increased, due to the sums of money he handles, the trustees were told. The board voted to raise the bond of Treasurer Dwayne Skinner from $15,000 to $50,000.

A proposal from PSL Realty Co., owner of the Village Green Mobile Home Park, was accepted by which the village will install traffic control signs in the park and PSL will reimburse the village for the expenses and labor.

The sewer committee presented a list of more than one dozen delinquent accounts from the Quiet Valley Lagoon treatment area and the trustees voted to turn the list over to the village attorney for legal action. The delinquencies totaled about $2,500, it was revealed.

The board agreed to search for a new police dispatcher to replace Tony Bennett, who leaves July 25 for military service. Federal and state grant employment programs should be checked first to determine if a grant would pay a portion of a new dispatcher's wages, the trustees indicated.

The village zoning board was asked to determine the zoning of a parcel of property on Pontoon Road to determine if an auto painting shop could conduct business there.

If a public hearing is necessary in order to change the zoning, the zoning board should proceed with the hearing, the trustees told Jerry Henderson, zoning inspector.

Milam to get trash contract

The Granite City Council's sanitation committee will recommend to the council in its regular meeting tonight that it enter a new agreement with Milam Corp.-East for collection of garbage and trash under a new bid price that will increase the city's collection costs by more than $83,000 a year.

Members of the sanitation committee agreed to make the recommendation in a meeting at City Hall Thursday following a study of three bids for the city's garbage and trash collection contract.

Milam Corp.-East, which has been bidding with an offer of $348,500, has been handling the city collections for the past five years.

Other bidders were Midwest Sanitary Service, Wood River, at $361,500, and Zykan Bros., Florissant, Mo., with a bid of $368,725.

The bids were opened in the office of City Clerk Robert Stevens on June 10 and were referred for study to the sanitation committee headed by Alderman William Dallas. Aldermen R. E. Robertson and Steve Basarich are members of the committee.

Garbage and trash collection during the past year cost the city $264,957, including pickups of garbage under the city's original sanitation contract with Milam, and collection of trash, refuse, leaves and brush under a supplemental contract which became necessary when the Environmental Protection Agency banned open burning.

EPA rules have since been liberalized, however, and residents may burn leaves and brush. Other trash and debris which once was disposed of by burning still must be picked up and thus adds to city collection costs.

The increase in the amount of the low bid by Milam over last year's collection costs is $83,043. This will be another additional expenditure to be added to the Granite City budget which is now being prepared, and which must be completed and adopted before the end of July. Alderman Gerald Farley has projected a budget deficit of $900,000 and said in last week's council meeting that each additional cost hereafter will increase the deficit figure.

Bids for a new garbage collection contract were called by the city after Milam notified the City Council that it wished to reopen its contract this year.

Newsboys get safety flags

Newsboys delivering the Press-Record will be sporting tall orange colored safety flags on their bicycles this week as part of a campaign by the Granite City newspaper and the Granite City News Co. to make the youths and their machines more visible to motorists.

Paul Halbert, Press-Record general manager, and Elmer Miller, owner of the news service firm at 1414 Nineteenth St., said the safety pennants will be distributed to about 125 bike-riding newsboys starting today.

The six-foot-long all weather aluminum poles, topped by bright orange vinyl flags, are attached at the base to the rear wheel of a machine. The safety devices may be secured to any size bicycle, Halbert said.

All newsboys are being encouraged to improve their bikes to conform with the new bicycle safety standards, the general manager reported, such as adding appropriate reflective devices.

B. L. FRANKLIN
Drowning Victim

GC man, 39, drowns in public pool

Benjamin Joseph Franklin, 39, of 2223 Ohio Ave., drowned while swimming in a public pool at the base of a waterfall near Mountain View, Mo. on Saturday.

He was pronounced dead at the scene by Dr. P. Wilson, Shannon County coroner, and Jim Behn, sheriff, both of Edwardsville, Mo., and Sergeant Ed Elmore of the Missouri State Patrol, at approximately 3 p.m. Saturday.

Franklin resided in Granite City for 18 years. He was employed as a supervisor for the Terminal Railroad for six years.

Mr. Franklin was a member of the United Assembly of East Alton and a Railroad Union.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Rosalee Franklin; two sons, Benjamin Joseph and Raymond Leighton Franklin, both of Granite City; four daughters, Patricia Ann, Darla

Two boys burned in gasoline fire

Two brothers were burned, one seriously, while playing with gasoline and matches near their home at 3:20 p.m. Friday.

Steven Howland, 8, the son of Grazi and Joyce Shusher, 3708 Nameoki Road, suffered second and third degree burns to his chest, back and both arms after his shirt caught on fire.

His brother, Michael Howland, 10, suffered minor burns on two fingers of his left hand but was released after treatment at St. Elizabeth's Hospital. Steven was treated at the hospital here and was transferred to St. Elizabeth's Hospital, Belleville. The boys said they and Clifton Gassett, 6, of 1506 Manley Ave., were playing with matches at a park area on Rode Avenue and the Gassett boy agreed to go home and get some gasoline.

When he returned, Michael arrived and covered Steven with wet towels until an ambulance arrived.

Steven reportedly panicked and started to run as his shirt burned completely. Officers arrived and covered Steven with wet towels until an ambulance arrived.

POPULAR PRELATE. The Rt. Rev. Mgr. Lawrence J. Mattingly, pastor of St. Elizabeth Catholic Church since 1952, talks with some of his young charges at a family day picnic given yesterday in his honor on the church grounds. Ordained into the priesthood in 1933, Mgr. Mattingly was elevated to his present rank on May 20. Seated on his lap is Kent Potter, 21 months, son of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Potter, Box 777P, Rural Route Two. More than 1,000 parishioners attended the picnic celebration, preceded by Mass at 11:30 a.m.

What's a cop? Kiwanis topic

"A cop is a person hired to keep his head when all the rest of us are in hysterics," P. "Mick" Strange told the Thursday morning meeting of the Breakfast Kiwanis Club in Chicago's restaurant.

Strange, who presented a program on law enforcement to the group, said that most people simply do not understand. The policeman on the street is called upon to know the law without the benefit of law school, he is a family counselor, spends most of his time dealing with the problem side of life and must be prepared to lay his life on the line in defense of a citizen or citizens property.

Prior to showing a film "Cop's report," Strange noted the patrolman on the street is called upon to know the law without the benefit of law school, he is a family counselor, spends most of his time dealing with the problem side of life and must be prepared to lay his life on the line in defense of a citizen or citizens property.

Miss Didier dies at 70

Miss Olivia Didier, 70, a resident of Our Lady of Perpetual Help nursing home in St. Louis, formerly of the Quad City area, died at 4:30 a.m. Thursday at the nursing home. Born in Cahokia, she resided in this area for many years prior to entering the nursing home seven years ago.

Miss Didier was a member of St. Mark Catholic Church in Venice.

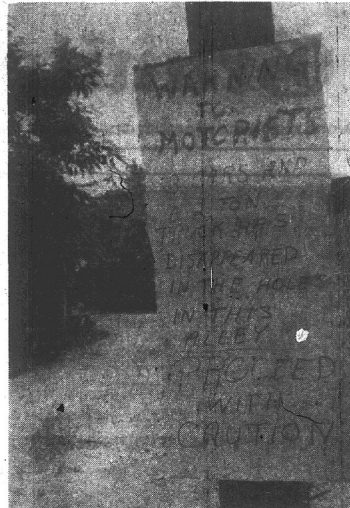

She was preceded in death by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward (Lena) Didier who resided in Cahokia, and a sister, Mrs. Stella Range, who lived in Madison before her death.

Her remains were donated to St. Louis University for medical research.

Memorial services will be held at 9 a.m. on Thursday at St. Mark Church in Venice and at 9 a.m. on Saturday at Holy Family Church in Cahokia.

Firecracker ban too late

Illinois citizens, young and old, are warned not to use fireworks or any other dangerous fireworks to celebrate the nation's Independence Day, according to the Illinois Society for the Prevention of Blindness.

In the past, despite the state's ban on fireworks, too many have been smuggled into Illinois from other states and in exploding have caused serious eye injuries and blindness, said Edgar T. Britton, executive director of the 58-year-old nonprofit organization.

More people have been killed in fireworks accidents during this century alone than were killed in the Revolutionary War which the Fourth of July celebrates, Britton said.

While Illinois has had legislation banning the use of fireworks since 1941, other states have not prohibited their use. This spring the consumer Product Safety Commission announced that it would ban all firecrackers, but on June 18 it postponed the ban for thirty days, meaning that there will be no effective prohibition of these blinding and death dealing items until 1975 at least.

The commission's postponement will seriously hamper law enforcement against firecrackers in Illinois, Britton declared, and it is up to every citizen of the state to see that fireworks are not used by individuals.

The Illinois Society was instrumental in having the Illinois ban enacted three decades ago, but smuggled fireworks still are used too widely, resulting every year in deaths and other injuries, among which eye accidents are too prevalent. Only complete observance of the Illinois law can end the Fourth of July, Britton declared.

To close ends at park rink

Jalousie-type windows to close both ends of Wilson Park rink pavilion will be installed, with work to start on the project on July 15, members of the Granite City Board of Park Commissioners were informed at their meeting last week.

Plans also were made to repair and refurbish the kiddie rides, located near the rink, which have been extensively vandalized.

Commissioners voted to purchase 36 plastic sheets for installation around the ice rink to afford protection during hockey games, at a cost of $2,003, and two studded tires costing $238, for the Zamboni ice resurfacing machine.

An insect-fogging machine will be acquired from Nameoki Township at a cost of $300, if the equipment is mechanically sound, commissioners said.

The board granted permission to Welcome Wagon, Inc., to use the Nameoki Recreation Center, Amos and Franklin avenues, for a bridal party on July 16, and to extend play until 11 p.m. on Wilson Park's lighted tennis courts for an additional month.

Prudential agents attend conference

Ten representatives of Prudential's Granite City district agency, 10 Nameoki Village, recently attended the company's regional business conference at Great Gorge in McAffee, N. J.

They are District Manager Earl J. Wendel, Sales Manager Bob Spengler and agents Bill Weathers, Bobby Miller, Roger Fridy, Paul Halderman, Stan Brown, Mark Lindow, Paul St. Clin and Don Stucke.

Representatives of Prudential district agencies in the Illinois region attended the three-day program, which provided instruction in specialized insurance subjects. Executives from Prudential's Mid-America home office at Chicago participated in the conference program.

Services held

Susan Kemper is wed at Niedringhaus Methodist

A double ring ceremony at 2 o'clock on the afternoon of June 15 was performed by Father Daniel Flynn and the Rev. Roy Baugh at Niedringhaus United Methodist Church, uniting in marriage Miss Susan F. Kemper and Frank M. Jerinigan.

Altar bouquets of pink, blue, orchid and yellow majestic daisies provided the setting for the service. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Piro of Granite City, and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Kemper, Tooele, Utah. Parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. Noble Layton of Granite City.

Paul Mabrey, soloist, sang "Sabbath Prayer," and the Lord's Prayer, accompanied at the organ by Jack Jenkins. The bride was given in marriage by her father. She selected a gown of white eyelet embroidered organza, designed with a high collar and a natural waistline, defined with a satin ribbon.

The fishnet sleeves featured wide cuffs and the A-line silhouette skirt was gathered across the back, sweeping into a chapel train, bordered with a ruffled flounce.

She wore a picture hat trimmed with embroidered lace and a white satin ribbon and she carried a hand bouquet of daisies and baby breath.

The attendants wore dresses fashioned alike with long sleeves, natural waistlines and full length skirts. The wide collars and cuffs were of contrasting fabric, trimmed with eyelet embroidery lace and held.

Each wore a picture hat accented with blue satin ribbon and embroidered lace and held a bouquet of daisies and baby breath.

Miss Connie Sulk, honor attendant, appeared in a blue flower flocked gown, full length. The bridesmaids, Miss Kathy Jerinigan, a sister of the groom and Miss Debbie Steinmann, were attired in identical full length gowns.

Peggy Piro, step-sister of the bride, and Kathy Nieland served as candlelighters. Their dresses were made like the honor attendant's gown, only in pink. They wore wristlets of daisies and baby breath.

The groom chose Bob Huss as his best man. Hal Gitcho and Paul Mills served as groomsmen.

Escorting the guests to their seats were Daryl Kemper and Gerald Kemper, twin brothers of the bride.

A reception was held following the ceremony in Wesley Hall at the church.

A rehearsal dinner was served to the bridal party and their families at Tempel's Smorgasbord.

After a wedding trip to Acapulco, Mexico, the newly married Mr. and Mrs. Frank Jerinigan will reside in Granite City.

Both attended Granite City schools. The bride is a student at S.I.U. at Edwardsville. Her husband is employed at Granite City Steel as a painter.

Mrs. Piro, mother of the bride, selected a green formal length gown, with long lace sleeves. She wore a corsage of pink roses.

The groom's mother, Mrs. Layton, wore an apricot colored chiffon dress, full length. The sleeves were long and sheer and her corsage was made of white carnations.

MR. AND MRS. FRANK JERINIGAN. They were married at Niedringhaus United Methodist Church, the bride is the former, Susan F. Kemper, a daughter of Mrs. Charles Piro of Granite City and Walter Kemper of Tooele, Utah.

Bike safety program for Cubs

A joint picnic and bike safety program were held last week at Wilson Park by Cubs from Pack 8, sponsored by the First United Presbyterian Church, Pack 108, sponsored by Lake School PTA, and Pack 121 of Wilson School PTA.

Warren Nash, Cubmaster from Pack 8, presided over the meeting. The meeting opened with the posting of colors by Scott Foote, John Desherlia, John Pickett and Gary Harlan, followed with a reading "Our Flag" and the singing of "America." Mrs. Pat Foote is the den leader of Den 2, Pack 8.

The boys participated in the "Small Race," "Salloms" and "Circle Relay" to test their bike riding skill. Judges were Warren Nash, Gustav Cormier and John Misturak and John Decourcy, Pack 8 representative. Receiving bike safety decals during an award presentation were John Desherlia, Scott Foote, Charles Pickett, Mark Vanyo, Bobby Robinson, Gary Harlan, Ronald and Donald Miller, Jamie Cormier, John Misturak and Chris Nash from Pack 8.

Norman Kinder, Ronnie Harlan, Richard Dermott and Jerry Phillips from Pack 108, John Paschke and Kerry Flynn from Pack 121. Chris Nash and Mark Vanyo

each received their Wolf badge and a gold arrow point, while (John) Robinson, Gary Harlan and Charles Pickett became Pack 8's Scott Foote and Mark Vanyo received Denner and Assault Denner Cords respectively from Nash, Cubmaster from Pack 8, Ronnie Harlan, Jerry Phillips and Richard Dermott from Pack 108 and John Paschke and Kerry Flynn from Pack 121.

Nash announced that Pack 8 will meet July 22 at Shelter 5 in Wilson Park and on Aug. 24 the pack will be making a trip to Defiance, Mo., to tour Daniel Boone's home.

Packs 108 and 121 will hold their meeting on July 29 at Mrs. Kinder's home where they will hold a regatta race and wiggy roast. They will join Pack 8 on the 30th of August. The meeting closed with a prayer by John Paschke, Training Chairman, and a prayer by the proper way for the goal of the American Flag.

After the closing, everyone enjoyed a marshmallow roast. Assisting were Mrs. Judy Miller, Den Leader from Den 3; Chuck Pyle, Den Leader from Den 2; Pack 8, and Norman Kinder, Den Leader for Lake School, and Frances Flynn, Den Leader from Pack 121.

Recent bride is shower honoree

A post-wedding party honoring Mrs. Herbert E. Ousley Jr. was given last week. The honoree, who was married May 15, is the former Miss Marie Jones.

Hostess for the miscellaneous shower was Mrs. Herbert Ousley Sr., mother-in-law of the newlywed. The event took place at the Ousley home, 1727 Fifth St., Madison.

Yellow and white wedding bells and party appointments in a harmonizing color scheme were used to decorate the home. A large cake, topped with tiny yellow bells, centered the refreshment table.

Games were played and prizes were awarded to the winners. Many gifts were received by the new bride.

Among the best were Miss Joyce Ousley and Mrs. Joe (Sally) Ousley, the bride's sisters-in-law; Mrs. Gayle Pich and Mrs. Mary Cain. Twenty-five guests attended the party.

MRS. REES ATTENDS GRASS ROOTS MEETING. Mrs. Jane Rees of Granite City has returned home after attending the 1974 grass roots meeting of the Republican National Committee at Springfield, Ill.

of Venice, following old Route 3, to East St. Louis and then to Dupe.

The only other major Madison County project included in the new work schedule calls for a new bridge deck for the Lewis & Clark Bridge which carries U.S. 67. Cost is estimated at $1.6 million.

Widening and resurfacing of Illinois Route 143 from west of Illinois Route 127 in Madison County to U.S. 40 west of Pierson in Bond County at an estimated cost of $1 million also is included.

Walker said the largest single year of supplemental freeway construction will be undertaken in fiscal 1975 with $225 million from bond funds going for the construction of 83 miles of supplemental freeways, land acquisition for new freeways, freeways and Cook County highway work.

Highlights of the new program include 72 miles of interstate highway; construction of 36 bridges, overpasses and interchanges and two new rest parks on the interstate highway system.

Continuation of engineering and corridor studies on environmental impact work and public hearings on the remainder of the 1,900-mile supplemental freeway system.

Improvements on 646 miles of non-interstate highways, including the widening, resurfacing and repair of 487 miles of rural roads and the widening and resurfacing of narrow highway.

Replacement of old bridges at a cost of $25 million; and accelerated work on safety projects such as removing roadside hazards, improving dangerous intersections and upgrading new safety devices under an allocation of $30 million.

bid opening at Springfield which included receipt of a low bid of $188,000 from the D. Ron Electrical Co. of Granite City for construction of a highway lighting system at Route 3 and W. Ponton Road and installation of traffic signs.

The bid is within the highway department's estimated cost of $190,100.

The bids also included one by the Dron electrical firm for $30,281 for installation of modernized traffic control signals at Nameoki Road and 23rd Street in Granite City. The bid, however, is 9 percent over the state engineer's estimated cost of $27,800. The state normally rejects bids if they exceed 5 percent of the estimated cost.

The R. Dron Electrical Co. also was low bidder at $64,358 for furnishing and installing a highway lighting system at Illinois Route 3 and Ferguson Avenue in Wood River. The bid is within the $70,100 estimated cost.

Moats crowned funny car king

The "Mr. Moat" Vega funny car, driven by world champion Vern Moats, 29, Iowa, proved unbeatable during the Dr. Pepper summer funny car championships at St. Louis International Raceway this weekend.

Moats, who won the world championship series at Marion, S.D., the previous weekend and has won the World Series of Auto Racing several times, combined a new experimental blower with his rare Keith Black all-aluminum 404 cubic inch engine to outpower a field of 16 funny cars at the event.

Moats turned the fastest quarter-mile of the meet in 7.31 seconds, finishing at 155.57 miles-per-hour during Saturday night's final race to defeat the

8 local wrestlers advance

Eight Granite City wrestlers qualified here Saturday to advance to the state wrestling federation championship meet July 6 at Hersey High School, Arlington Heights, Ill., and a July 22 meet against Oklahoma all-stars.

The five champions and three runners-up from here qualified during the annual Mayor Richard J. Daley Youth Foundation district tournament Saturday at Granite City High School South.

Champions from here were: Jim Caschetta, 106 pounds; Phil Lapinski, 115; John Niebur, 132; Brian Wilson, 165, and John McMillon, heavyweight. Wilson received a trophy for having the most pins the meet.

Runners-up, who also qualified for the state event, were Steve Garland (115), Rich Schmissor (122) and Terry Johnson (154).

Three other Granite City wrestlers were named alternates to the Hersey event. The alternates are Steve Avedisian (154), John Avedisian (150) and Steve Kraus (heavyweight).

The winners and runners-up also qualified to compete against Oklahoma all-stars during a meet Monday, July 22, at Cahokia High School.

High School Graduates:

Get up to $2500 cash bonus if you qualify.

Today's Army has some challenging technical jobs and a special cash bonus for those high school graduates who can qualify.

Paddlers 2nd in conference relays

Paddlers swim team members placed second in Summersport of Alton play area conference relays of the Southwestern Illinois Swimming Association held Saturday at the Alton club's pool.

Seven clubs took part in the all day event, one of the keeneast competitive meets of the summer season.

Gaslight of Collinsville earned third place honors, followed by Dorchester of Belleville.

Paddlers will meet Summersport at home Tuesday in a dual meet, diving events starting at 5 p.m. and swimming contests at 6 p.m.

Henry will play for Kansas State

Ron Henry, star Venice High School baseball player, has decided to attend Kansas State University.

Henry earlier signed a letter of intent to play for the University of Missouri at St. Louis, but Division One schools like Kansas State are not bound by the letter signed with Division Two schools.

Tennis champs

Jim Ettimoff of Granite City and Jay Leskara of Collinsville won first place in the MacClair Junior Tennis Tournament in Collinsville Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

They defeated Jeff Anthony, East St. Louis, and Kathy Foxworth, St. Louis, 7-6 and 6-1, to capture the top 12-and-under doubles title.

In the MacClair tournament held in Belleville, Ettimoff and Leskara had earned second place, bowing to Tim Squires and Jack Summers of Hannibal, Mo.

Ettimoff is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Vasil Ettimoff, 2800 Michigan Ave.

Rotary Club installation

Walter C. Milton of the Pepsi-Cola Alton Bottling Co. was installed as president of the Granite City Rotary Club and Mrs. William F. (Lois) Winter as president of the Rotary-Ann at a dinner dance Friday evening at Sunset Hills Country Club.

Past President A. H. Froelich conducted the installation of 1974-75 officers.

President Joseph P. Hassler presided and reviewed 1973-74 activities. A smorgasbord meal was enjoyed and there was group singing.

On dean's list

A total of 224 students at MacMurray College in Jacksonville, Ill., have been named to the dean's list for the second semester of the 1973-74 academic term.

To qualify for the dean's list, a student must earn a grade-point average of 3.50 on a scale of 4.0 in at least 14 hours of academic work.

The list includes James C. Brooker, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Brooker, 903 MacCambridge Ave., Madison (straight A).

Post 113 bows to Post 307 but edges Cahokia

Venice-Madison American Legion Post 307 won 9-5 over Tri-City Post 113 of Granite City during a baseball game at Wilson Park Friday.

Venice-Madison scored its nine runs on five hits while the Granite City team reversed that, having five runs on nine hits. Post 307 committed three errors and Post 113, four.

Scoring started in the third inning when Dave Hamilton singled for Venice-Madison and Carl Turner drove him home on a triple. Turner reached home on a throwing error.

In the fourth, Post 307 added another as Cedrick Wilson reached base on an error and worked his way around, scoring on a passed ball.

Granite City rallied in the fourth. Jim Kafka was struck by a pitch, Greg Linhart and Dennis Solberger singled and Mike Gagech forced Kafka to home. A throwing error to first resulted in two unearned runs and advanced Gagech to third. Mike Martinez drove Gagech home with a single.

In the fifth, Post 113's Brett Champion singled and Larry Petri tripled. Greg Linhart then drove in Petri.

Post 307 rallied in the seventh with a bases-loaded single by Carl Turner, tying the score at 5-5. Wilson hit a grand slam home run to provide the victory margin.

On Sunday, Granite City defeated Cahokia here while Venice-Madison split a non-league twinnish at Quincy.

The Tri-City post had 10 hits to two for Cahokia, but won by only a run, 5-4. Three errors were charged to Cahokia and two to the home team.

Scoring were Martinez twice, Petri twice and Mike Stanton. Martinez had four hits. Kirk Champion won with 10 strikeouts.

In other American Legion action Friday, Edwardsville defeated Collinsville 3-1 and Belleville topped Alton 16-2. On Saturday, Belleville beat Highland 3-1.

Mercer splits 2; here July 4

Fresh from a split of two games Sunday at Piasa, Mercer of Granite City will seek to improve its 1-4 Inter-City Baseball League record against Troy 4-1 p.m. Thursday, July 4, at Wilson Park in Granite City. Mercer has a bye next Sunday but will play an exhibition game Saturday at Herrin.

Mercer clobbered Piasa 11-1 before suffering a 3-5 setback yesterday.

Bruce Thompson hurled a four-hitter, limiting Piasa to a run in the sixth inning of the opener.

A Bob Scott double and Vic Reznack triple made it 1-0 in the second and Mercer doubled its margin in the fourth as Reznack doubled and Mark Boone singled.

Four Mercer runs crossed the plate in the sixth as Scott doubled, Reznack tripled, Thompson singled, Harvey Breckner was hit by a pitch, Jack Scarborough singled and Breckner scored on a fielder's choice.

The seventh saw another four-run spurge. Scott homered, Boone and Bob Finkelstone doubled and Breckner slugged a two-run homer.

A home run by Larry Corey in the eighth ended the scoring. Mercer amassed 18 hits and made only one error to Piasa's two miscues.

Thompson moved to rightfield in the second game, in which Piasa outbatted 9-6 but bunched its offense and took advantage of five Mercer errors. The victors erred three times.

A homer by Stu Trask powered Piasa to a 3-0 lead in the first and it became 4-0 in the second.

Mercer cut the deficit to 4-2 in the third as Breckner walked, Dave Huddleston singled, Jack Scarborough hit into a double play to drive in a run, Larry Corey singled and Scott reached base on an error on his grounder first base.

The Granite Cityans tied it 4-4 in the fifth as Huddleston homered, Scarborough walked and Thompson reached base when the leftfielder dropped his drive.

It had been agreed to play only seven innings in the second contest, and Piasa put the game out of reach with five runs in the sixth inning.

Mercer rallied for a lone run in the seventh when Scarborough doubled and Scott each singled.

Top stock car race is taken by Wallace

St. Louisian Russ Wallace took advantage of a faltering With Spaulding, current point leader, Friday evening to capture his second late model stock car feature race at Tri-City Speedway and close the gap in point standings.

Spaulding, seeking his fourth feature victory, wrecked his race car on the first lap of the third heat race and borrowed a less competitive race car to finish the program.

Lem Gittimer of St. Charles captured the first heat and Wallace sped to victory in the third heat before leading the 20-lap feature event from start to finish.

Wallace was the evening's second fastest qualifier in time trials with a one-lap tour of 27.03 seconds. Bill Scherer was the fastest with a time of 26.84.

Missouri's Ken Schrader captured the handicap event for the six fastest qualifiers and Spaulding was victorious in the second heat before being sidelined in the third heat event.

Gittimer, with his second place finish in the feature, moved to within 35 points of Spaulding, who has 1,125. Wallace is third with 955 points.

In the sportsman division, St.

Louisian Bill Reid gained his first main event victory at the local track. Two drivers crashed and were taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital.

Terry Spaulding spun his race car in the third corner on the last lap of the 20-lap event and flipped end-over-end.

The 18-year-old racer, of 4027 Garden Lane, was admitted to the hospital with contusions to the right hip, abrasions to the left ankle and a concussion.

H. H. Malloy, 25, of 2821 Saratoga St., struck another car in the same event and was treated at the local hospital for abrasions to the right rib cage. He was x-rayed and released.

Don Gray Jr. finished second behind Reid in the feature and John Wolfmeier maintained his lead in that division's point standings (700) by placing third. Granite Cityan Rod Bailey is second in the standings with 515 points.

Gary Wallace and Jim Groceman were heat race victors in the sportsman division.

Late model and sportsman stock car racing will resume at Tri-City Speedway Friday, with time trials at 7:30 p.m. and racing at 8:30 p.m.

Induct Linhart into Hall of Fame

Twenty-six years have passed since Granite Cityan Carl Linhart helped lead the 1948 baseball Warriors to the Illinois State championship as its captain in his senior year.

A standout catcher for the Granite City High School baseball squad in 1946-47-48—Linhart this year became only the third athlete to be inducted into the Illinois High School Baseball Hall of Fame in ceremonies at the 1974 state baseball tournament at Peoria.

The Hall of Fame was initiated in 1972 by the Illinois High School Association which controls the athletic programs in the state. Hall of Fame members are chosen from among all the players who have ever competed in IHSA baseball.

After graduating from GCHS he started a promising professional baseball career by batting .406 in his minor league season before signing with the Detroit Tigers in 1949.

His hopes for a future with the major league ball club "was shattered in 1951 when he was called to serve in the armed forces.

Upon his return here, Linhart became employed with Granite City Steel and is now in his 20th year of continuous service with the firm.

He is being congratulated by Al Baker, left, assistant A.M.A. district star, after receiving a trophy by Granite City model Mona Sue, right. The Texan made a clean sweep of every event he entered. Lee will seek to become the season's first double-feature race victor tomorrow at the local raceway when cycle competition resumes with time-trials at 7 p.m.

Paddlers hopes for second win

Granite City Paddlers' Swim Club resumes its competition tomorrow in the Southwestern Illinois Swimming Association conference with a home meet against Summer-Sport of Walton beginning at 5 p.m.

The local swim club opened its 1974 season last week on the road with a 371-215 victory over Sunco Hills at Edwardsville. Leaving the contingent of scorers for Granite City were five swimmers who posted five or more first-places each at Edwardsville. They were: Susan Fonce, eight and under; David Becherer, nine and ten-year-olds; Rosie Baggett, 11 and 12-year-olds, and Laura Mann in 15 and over competition.

Also earning first-place honors were: David Jolly, Robin Clonko, Paula Worthen, Buddy Lindsey, Scott Buenger, Cathy Baggett, Mark Buenger, Bob Mann, Steve Hein, Patty Grebel, Kelly Mann, Cathy Becherer, and Ken Jolly.

Fairview Heights victorious

Granite City Post 113 fell to sixth place in District 22 American Legion Baseball standings after dropping a 3-0 decision Thursday to Fairview Heights.

Granite City collected five hits and erred twice in the contest. Fairview Heights had seven hits and played errorless ball.

Garnering hits for Post 113 were Greg Linhart and Dave Dombek with two each and one by Mike Stanton, the losing pitcher.

Granite City's only threat was in the second inning when Linhart doubled, but then was stranded after a single by Stanton fell in the infield. Fairview Heights scored twice in the fifth and once in the sixth for the victory.

The Highland Legionners, at 9-0, head District 22 standings after Thursday's competition. Fairview Heights is in second place at 6-2.

Rounding out the standings are: Belleville 5-3; Collinsville and Edwardsville, both 5-4; Cahokia 3-3; Granite City 3-5; O'Fallon and Alton, both 2-5; and Venice-Madison 1-9.

Other American Legion scores Thursday were: Belleville 6, Collinsville 0; Edwardsville 14, O'Fallon 0, and Cahokia 12, Alton 2.

Reds tryout camp at Salem

A tryout camp for baseball players will be conducted by the Cincinnati Reds on Friday and Saturday, July 12-13, at Salem, Ill. It was announced this week. Salem is located about 60 miles east of Granite City, along U.S. Route 50.

The camp is open to all young men from 16 to 22 years of age. High school sophomores and juniors also are being encouraged to attend.

Chet Montgomery, Reds scouting supervisor, will direct the tryout camp, assisted by scouts Bob Jamison and Duane Majors.

Tryouts will be held from 10 a.m. until 4 p.m. at the Salem High School athletic field, according to Jim Ferguson of the Cincinnati baseball club. He said participants are requested to furnish their own gear such as shoes, uniforms and gloves. Bats and baseballs will be provided by the Reds.

Additionally, Ferguson

noted, players will be responsible for travel and living expenses, if any, unless they are signed to contracts with the Reds' organization teams.

Players must be 16 years of age to be eligible to tryout and all American Legion players must have written approval from their Legion coach or post should attendance at the tryout conflict with a Legion activity, Ferguson said.

Signs at SIUE

Layne Law of Bethalto, cross-country running star from Civic Memorial High School, has signed a letter of intent to enroll at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, according to John Flamer, SIUE varsity cross-country coach.

The 18-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph C. Law won the district and sectional cross-country events as a senior at Civic Memorial and placed 38th in a field of more than 200 runners in state competition, beating the times of all competitors from the Metro-East area. He was named a member of the All Metro-East cross-country team.

Law also was a guard on the Civic Memorial varsity basketball team, and he qualified for state competition in the two-mile event in track.

Flamer said he is "very pleased" to have signed SIUE's first cross-country runner from Civic Memorial. "Layne has unlimited potential," Flamer said. "He definitely has the ability to make the top five in his freshman year."

Msgr. Mattingly honored at church 'Family Day'

More than 1,000 St. Elizabeth parishioners gathered Sunday on the Church grounds for an old-fashioned "Family Day" to honor newly-appointed Monsignor Lawrence Mattingly. The Rev. Monsignor Mattingly has been pastor of St. Elizabeth's for 22 years.

Pope Paul VI has conferred the rank of Prelate of Honor to His Holiness with the title of Reverend Monsignor on the local pastor of St. Elizabeth's. The announcement of the papal honor was made by Bishop William A. O'Connor May 20 at a meeting of the Board of Diocesan Consultors.

Monsignor Mattingly was born in Paris, Ill., on May 21, 1908. He attended Quincy College, and studied for the priesthood at Kenrick Seminary, St. Louis. He was ordained June 10, 1933, by Bishop James A. Griffin at the Cathedral in Springfield, Ill.

He served as assistant pastor of Immaculate Conception Parish, Mattoon, Ill. from 1933 to 1934, and as assistant at St. Patrick Parish, Pana, Ill. from 1934 to 1942. He was appointed pastor of Christ the King Church, Greenup, Ill., and served there from 1942 to 1952.

Monsignor Mattingly was appointed Dean of the Alton Deanery and a Diocesan Consultor in 1970.

Last year, Monsignor Mattingly celebrated 40 years as a priest.

At St. Elizabeth's, the Special Family Day began with Monsignor Mattingly celebrating High Mass at 11:30 a.m., assisted by Father John Savoree. Sisters of Divine Providence, who teach at the school, attended mass in a body along with 50 members of the Daughters of Isabella.

An Honor Guard from the Knights of Columbus attended. Favorite hymns of Monsignor Mattingly were sung by the choir under the direction of Mrs. Robert (Jane) Kucielok.

At 3 p.m. a family picnic began. Organized games were conducted for children in all age groups, with prizes presented. The adults also enjoyed competitive games, and the men of the parish challenged the ladies to a softball game.

Music was enjoyed throughout the day and evening. Performing were the Eagles Kitchen Band of Granite City and St. Elizabeth's own musical youth group.

A guest book was presided over by Mrs. George (Rosalia) Johannmeier.

At 5 p.m. a luncheon was served. The four large serving tables were decorated in the red, white and blue Independence Day motif.

Place mats and napkins were imprinted with the American Flag. The overflowing crowd brought along picnic chairs and the entire grounds of St. Elizabeth's were used to enjoy the luncheon.

To complete the evening, a three-tiered cake, approximately two feet tall was served to the group. With the wording "Congratulations Monsignor Mattingly," the cake was decorated in white with tushia red trim.

Many tokens were given to the picknickers throughout the day. All men attending received a small American Flag lapel pin. Each child was given pencils and balloons and the ladies received a protective whistle.

Chairman of the Family Day program was Mrs. Philip (Shirley) Heath.

Games were under the direction of Mrs. Alan (Susan) Gasparevic and Mrs. Thomas (Vivian) Byer. Serving as food chairman were Mrs. Robert (Joy) Kurilla, Mrs. Roy (Catherine) Ponce, Mrs. Frank (Anne) Pare, Mrs. Robert (Betty) Stegmeyer, and Art Kueper. The cake was baked by Mrs. Quito Valencia.

Mrs. James Leonard of Fayetteville, Ark., formerly of Granite City, has completed a real estate course at the University of Arkansas and has passed the state realtor examination in Little Rock.

She is now employed at the firm of Schultz and Taylor in Fayetteville.

Mrs. Leonard will be remembered as the former Ann Pasqua, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Guy M. Pasqua, 2515 Sheidav Ave.

ENGAGED Miss Laura E. Knackstedt, whose engagement to John O. Schooley is being announced by the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin W. Knackstedt, 2124 Amos Ave.

Schooley-Knackstedt engagement

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin W. Knackstedt, 2124 Amos Ave., are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Miss Laura E. Knackstedt, to John O. Schooley.

Miss Knackstedt graduated from Granite City High School. She presently is employed at Famous Barr Warehouse, St.

Louis. Her fiancé is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William W. Schooley, 8 Terrace Lane. He is a Granite City High School graduate and will be attending Illinois State University, at Normal, in the fall.

Wedding plans are indefinite at the present time.

Reader-Hatton wedding in Tooele, Utah, chapel

An out-of-town wedding of interest here was that of Miss Kathy Marie Hatton and William K. Reader taking place June 15 in the LDS 13th Ward Chapel at Toole, Utah.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvard Hatton, 294 Caldwell Drive, Tooele. Parents of the groom are Mrs. Andrew Bauza, 54 Park Ave., Tooele, formerly of Granite City, and Richard Reader of Alton, Ill.

Bishop John W. Beasley officiated at the double ring ceremony at 6 o'clock in the evening. A reception followed the service at the chapel.

A white chiffon gown accented with floral lace at the neckline, on the cuffs of the long sleeves and encircling the hem was worn by the bride.

Her full length veil was edged in floral lace and held in place with a crown style headpiece. She carried a bouquet of pink pom poms and maroon colored roses.

Miss Karlene Hatton, a sister of the bride, served as maid of honor. Bridesmaids included Patricia Hardesty, the groom's sister, Karen Watkins and Lora Sue Hatton, the bride's sister.

They wore identical gowns fashioned with pink tulle, batiste blooms, scoop necklines and puff sleeves. The long skirts were made of tulle.

Each attendant held a pink and maroon colored rose festooned with satin streamers. Jennifer Ebersold, a niece of the groom, was the flower girl. She wore a long white frock trimmed with pink eyelet embroidery and a dark pink sash. She carried a basket of pink pom poms and deep maroon roses.

The groom chose his brother-in-law, Dennis Hardesty, as best man. Groomsmen and ushers were Larry and Merlin Hatton, brothers of the bride.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Hatton selected a burgundy and pink formal length gown. The groom's mother, Mrs. Bauza, wore a pale pink full length frock.

After a wedding trip to Wyoming, the newly married couple is now residing at 145 N. Broadway, Tooele.

A graduate of Tooele High School in 1972, the former Miss Hatton also attended Snow College in Ephraim, Utah. She is now employed at the Tooele Army Depot.

The groom was graduated from Granite City High School in 1970 and works in the electronics division at the Tooele Army Depot.

Out-of-town guests attending the wedding included Mrs. Robert Ebersold, a sister of the groom, Jennifer and Julie, of Granite City, and Larry Hatton, a brother of the bride, from Cheyenne, Wyo.

GC girl is exchange student in Belgium

After several years of planning to become an exchange student by following specific procedures as outlined by the International Fellowship Scholarship Foundation in New York, Miss Mary Beth Powderly has finally realized her dream and the Granite City girl is now residing with a family in Ghent, Belgium.

She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Powderly, 121 Riviera Drive, and has just completed her junior year at Xavier High School for Girls in St. Louis.

Miss Powderly made the trip on Sabina Airlines from Chicago to Montreal, Canada, where she joined six other young girls who also were traveling to Europe as exchange students.

She was met in Brussels by Mr. and Mrs. Gregoire, with whom she will reside in Ghent, and the couple's three daughters, Maria Christine, 18, Veronique, 16 and Pierette 14. The local resident will spend three months with the Belgian family. In communications prior to departure plans were made to vacation in France from July 5 to July 20.

One of the requirements in becoming an exchange student is to have a pupil from another country housed in a local home for various periods of time, depending on school programs.

In conjunction with the Fellowship Foundation's requirements, the Powderly family had Miss Neddy Delgado DeCarpio from Arequipa, Peru, living in their home for about a school year.

The South American girl also attended the St. Louis high school with both Jennifer and Mary Beth Powderly.

Miss DeCarpio returned to her home in Peru on June 12, 1973.

Mrs. Bertha Frieda Gessett, 81, of the 8800 block of Whitestone Drive, Jennings, Mo., died at 11 p.m. Friday at Colonnades Nursing Home, where she had been a patient for several months.

She was native of Columbus, Ohio, and was reared in Terre Haute, Ind. Mrs. Gessett and her husband, George R., who survives, had resided in St. Louis since their marriage 59 years ago.

Her husband, Mrs. Gessett is survived by one son, Beside Gessett, at home; five daughters, Mrs. Agnes Hermyer and Mrs. Virginia Rogers, both of St. Louis, Mrs. Violet Schmidt of Maplewood, Mo., Mrs. Ruth Masterson of Wright City, Mo., and Mrs. Bertha Swafford of Mexico, Mo.; 14 grandchildren and 12 great-grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held at 10 a.m. Tuesday at O'Sullivan Funeral Home, Jennings, Mo.

Youth injured at rink disturbance

Michael Whaley, 16, of 2504 Cleveland Blvd., suffered an eye injury early Saturday during a disturbance that developed in an argument between hockey players and spectators at the Le Chateau Ice Arena, 2850 Old Collingwood Road in Caseyville Township. St. Clair County sheriff's deputies were called to the rink at 1 a.m. by Vernon Betz, a rink operator, who said an argument was followed by pushing and cursing incidents. The disturbance broke up and Whaley did not require hospital treatment.

Sister of GC woman killed

Mrs. Bettie Jo Maher, 22, of 104 Arlette Drive, Beaverville, a sister of Mrs. Richard (Nancy) Ames of Granite City, was injured fatally in a 200-foot fall from a cliff near Dupu, Ill., at 4 a.m. Saturday.

Mrs. Maher and her husband, John, 22, with friends, Terry and Linda Ohendorf of Scott Air Force Base, had gone to look at the view from the cliff site when Mrs. Maher apparently lost her footing and fell.

She was pronounced dead at the scene by Deputy Coroner Harold Dasher. Other survivors include a daughter, Greta, and a son, John; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Schaeffer, of East St. Louis; two other sisters and two brothers.

Funeral services will be at 1 p.m. Tuesday at a Fairview Heights Mortuary. Burial will be in Glen Carbon Cemetery.

JULY 4 SERVICES AT ST. BARTHOLOMEW'S

Elderly couple shot to death

An elderly State Park couple was killed in what Madison County Sheriff's deputies say "may possibly have been a murder-suicide" at their home at 6:50 p.m. Sunday.

Dead are Joseph Toupout, 71, and his wife, Allen, 63, both of 8411 Fairway Blvd., State Park Place, Nameoki Township. Both are believed to have died of wounds from a .22 caliber pistol which was recovered from their home.

Officers said the couple's grandson, Dennis Toupout, 20, and his wife, Mary Elizabeth, 18, went to visit the couple. When Dennis walked inside the house, he found his grandfather in a pool of blood on the floor. His grandfather told him to get out, Dennis told deputies.

He called his father, Joseph E. Toupout, and the sheriff's department. A squad car arrived at the scene at 7:04 p.m. and deputies were told that another gunshot was heard from inside the home moments before the deputies arrived.

The officers were unable to open the door and had to break it down to gain entry to the house.

Upon entering, deputies found Mrs. Toupout without signs of life on the floor, with a gunshot wound to her head.

Joseph Toupout was alive at that time with a gunshot wound to his head, but he died before an ambulance arrived at 7:12 p.m.

The couple was pronounced dead at the scene by a deputy coroner.

Autopsies were being performed today to determine any other factors which may have led to their deaths. An investigation is under way into circumstances of the deaths, deputies said.

The bodies were at a Collinsville funeral home today but the family had not determined what funeral home will make arrangements for services and burial.

Theta Iota booth at park festival

Handcrafted items, such as candles, crocheted purses and painted plaques, are being offered the public by Theta Iota Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi at its booth at the Fourth of July festival in Wilson Park.

Final plans for the booth were made at a meeting last week at the home of Mrs. Candy Thompson, who is coordinating the project.

Miss Barbara Wagner, president, announced the chapter has received the top three-star rating from the International Sorority.

Joseph Wagner, president, announced the chapter has received the top three-star rating from the International Sorority.

She was believed alone when the wound occurred.

Members of Miss Holshouser's family said the victim was suffered accidentally.

The stab wound damaged the liver and pancreas, it was indicated.

Hit, robbed

Two armed robbers struck a Madison man at the south end of the McCambridge Avenue viaduct near the Cloverleaf area and stole his watch and about $3 cash, at about 1 a.m. Sunday.

Webb, 1740 Market St., Madison, said he was walking down the steps of the viaduct when two men called to him. They approached and one struck Webb with a pistol, knocking him to the ground.

They took his watch and the cash and fled on foot south of McCambridge. Webb walked to St. Elizabeth Hospital, where he was treated for injuries to his left shoulder and forearm and was released.

Arrest 2 in local assault

Daniel Fields, 37, twin brother of a youth shot to death May 16 in a struggle with a St. Louis policeman, was arrested with James K. Hauser, 20, in St. Louis Friday on charges of raping a 15-year-old girl at the levee near the Lewis and Clark Memorial Park here.

The alleged assault June 2 followed acceptance of an auto ride by the North St. Louis girl. She said three youths held her on the ground and molested her.

Fields, St. Louis, and Hauser, Riverview Gardens, were freed on $2,500 bonds Saturday pending trial.

HOME BURGLARIZED

The home of Glenn Bartling, 2546 Pontoon Road, was entered after a rear window was broken and the window opened. The family had not determined what had been stolen.

AUTOMOBILE TAKEN

The 1973 auto of James Merchant, 1328 Rhodes Ave., was stolen from his home, he reported at 8:35 a.m. Saturday.

Dr. Kumler is associate professor of biological sciences, Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. He recently returned from India, where he was an agricultural advisor to the government. His opinions are his own, and do not necessarily reflect the opinions of the faculty or administrators of SIUE.

Until recently, the demand for more food has been met throughout history by using more crop land. But now arable land has just about run out. Large tracts of fertile land such as are found in the Amazon desert and the Sahara are useless for lack of water, and the cost of desalinated water from the sea is still too high. The vast areas in the tropics such as the Amazon valley are beyond our reach for agriculture, because we do not know how to produce sustained yield crops on these tropical soils. And there is certainly no more world while a acreage available where the heaviest centers of population are located. The trend is for more and more crop lands to become hoisting developments, freeways and parking lots.

It is clear that if we are to meet our food needs we must have a more intensive cultivation of existing arable lands. However, it is an overlooked fact that crop yield per acre in much of the world has changed little over the centuries. Only quite recently—during the 20th century—have certain countries succeeded in achieving rapid, continuous increases in output per acre.

Surprisingly, the first significant increase in yield occurred in Japan, during the early years of this century. This was followed by spurts in northern Europe. Not until the late 1950's did the United States and the United Kingdom achieve their "take-off" increases. But such dramatic increases in yield raise the question of how long these upward increases can continue. Will there come a time when the rate of increase will slow down or stop altogether?

MOSS-AMERICAN ENTERED

Two electric typewriters and two adding machines were stolen from the office at Moss-American Inc. treating plant in Venice, it was reported at 7 p.m. Saturday. Entry was gained by tearing a wire screen from a rear window and breaking the window. Two wooden lockers were torn open.

GARAGE, CAR ENTERED

Andy Harizel, 1403 Washington Ave., reported at 9:20 a.m. Sunday that the door to his garage was opened after the lock was pried off. The door to his auto in the garage was left open, but Harizel did not believe anything was stolen.

HOLIDAY BARBECUE

The Fraternal Order of Eagles Aerie 1126, 2558 Madison Ave., will sponsor a Fourth of July barbecue which will be open to the public. The Eagles will serve ribs, chicken and pork steaks beginning at noon. Carry outs will be available.

TRAILER IS LOOTED

A C. D. Peters Construction Co. trailer, parked at Wash and Ames avenues, was entered after an 18-inch square vent was removed, it was reported at 9:40 p.m. Sunday. An inventory was to be taken today to determine if anything was stolen.

TAKE CAMPING TRAILER

A 16½ foot long camping trailer, valued at $1,000, was stolen from in front of the home of Leo Baasch, 1640 State St., it was reported at 6:25 p.m. Sunday. Inside the white over-brown unit was two tape players, winter clothing, fishing rods and reels, a camping lantern and a truck tire.

SUES RAILROAD

James Beach has filed a $6,000 suit in Madison County Circuit Court against the Terminal Railroad Association of St. Louis. He alleges that on April 26, 1974, while employed as a switchman at the railroad's Madison Yards, he injured his back while attempting to turn a switch.

Point Future Food Resources for the World

By Prof. Marion L. Kumler

Dr. Kumler is associate professor of biological sciences, Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. He recently returned from India, where he was an agricultural advisor to the government. His opinions are his own, and do not necessarily reflect the opinions of the faculty or administrators of SIUE.

Throughout the world have forced prices up. We also know that until recently we have spent more money on space research than we have on both agriculture and medicine.

If we do not have more arable land, if only with difficulty, can we increase yields per acre, what can we do? Many people point to the oceans as the source of limitless food. But we presently are taking about 50 million metric tons of fish from the sea. If we did everything right, we could take perhaps 100 million tons on a sustained yield basis. But we are doing everything wrong.

The ocean is basically a desert. Its depths are infertile and almost devoid of life. The shallow continental shelves are the fertile areas. But here we are dumping all sorts of pollutants which are reducing the productivity at an alarming rate. We are over-fishing many species and we are using a larger proportion of the fish crop for non-human food every year.

The immediate problem may be an insufficiency of food, but the most urgent problem is the overabundance of births. The Green Revolution was born in Mexico. During the last 25 years their grain production doubled; so did their population. Last year, they imported considerable amounts of food.

The only real solution is the curtailment of the so-called right of unlimited reproduction. The elimination of starvation is an impossibility until man is willing and able to control the rate of his own reproduction.

PROF. MARION L. KUMLER

One way of evaluating future prospects for expansion in yields is to examine the corn crop in this country. During the decade 1938-48 there was a sharp increase in production. Most of the increase was the result of a change from open-pollinated, traditional corn to new hybrids. A second major reason for the increase was the use of large quantities of pesticides. As one examines the crop statistics, one finds there are still annual increases in yield per acre. These are not spurts, however, but rather slow, steady gains.

We do not know with any certainty when the rate of yield will begin to slow for the major food crops on which man depends, but we do know that this will happen eventually. We do not know whether the slowdown will come gradually or abruptly. We do not even know whether or not this slowdown can be ameliorated by higher prices to farmers, by adoption of technological innovations, or by stepping up funds for increased research. We do know that economic conditions

It also voted to fully fund 1973-74 state aid to public schools, and approved a 10 per cent cost-of-living increase for public aid recipients.

Legislators for the third consecutive year failed to ratify the proposed U. S. Constitutional amendment guaranteeing equal rights for women.

The Assembly left Memorial Day observance scheduled for May 30, in contrast to the federal Monday holiday law.

A proposed St. Louis Area Council of Governments including this area was left for possible Senate action this fall. It was approved by the Illinois House.

Attempting to attract coal gasification facilities, the legislature authorized $70 million in coal development bonds.

Proposed hikes in the minimum wage, workmen's compensation and unemployment compensation laws were blocked.

Tax relief for the elderly was approved by expanding the "circuit breaker" law. Those owning or renting homes and aged 65 or over are to receive a rebate on the part of their property taxes exceeding four per cent of their income. Those earning $10,000 or more yearly will not be eligible.

The designation of a state auditor general was approved, and the Governor's Office of Human Resources was killed by the legislature.

Fourteen appointees to the State Education Board were approved; three were rejected by the Illinois Senate.

Woman charged in fireworks sale

A State Park woman was arrested by sheriff's deputies Saturday during investigation by the officers into the source of fireworks which a young boy was shooting off.

Mrs. Helen B. Arnold, 42, of 3221 Arlington, was booked on suspicion of unlawful sale of fireworks. She was released on $100 bond pending a hearing Friday.

Sheriff's Deputy Daniel Schmidt said he saw the boy shooting fireworks about 10:20 a.m. Saturday. He said he confiscated the fireworks and the boy told him where he had bought them.

Schmidt said he went to the home and asked Mrs. Arnold if she was selling fireworks. He said she admitted she was and invited him into the home where there were several tables containing fireworks such as firecrackers, rockets and missiles.

Industrial, commercial expansions

Plans to expand Shell Oil Company's Refinery at Wood River have been announced by company officials. The refinery's crude oil capacity will be increased by 30,000 barrels per day, resulting in an overall capacity of about 30,000 barrels per day. The project also includes a new asphalt plant, as well as a 30,000 barrel oil storage tank.

Consultants' recommendations have been received by East-West Gateway Coordinating Council for an ambitious program to relocate railroads and improve movement of rail traffic through the St. Louis region. One recommendation calls for development of a single $180 million railroad master terminal extending from East St. Louis to Caseyville. Should the plans be implemented, transit time for movement of a rail car through St. Louis would be reduced from 40 hours to 11 hours.

MAL Landfill Corp. has announced plans to construct a $500,000 paper recycling plant in St. Clair County near East St. Louis. The plant would recycle 30,000 tons of paper per year and is expected to employ about 30 persons. MAL also has announced plans for construction of a similar facility in Madison County.

Union Tank Car Co., owners of one of the region's two geodesic domes, has offered to donate the Wood River facility to SIUE. The dome formerly was used as a tank car repair facility. University officials expect to reach a decision on the offer within the next month.

Edwardsville businessmen and city officials have offered to provide land in the city's central business district to Madison County as a site for a new County Jail. A site decision by the County's Building Committee is expected this summer. The new jail is anticipated to cost about $3 million.

First Granite City Savings and Loan Association has announced plans to build a second office in Granite City. The new facility, to be located in the northeast section of the city, is scheduled to be in operation this fall.

McDepartment Stores, developer of the St. Clair Square Shopping Center at Fairview Heights, has announced that more than 85 percent of the space on the Square's Mall has been leased or committed. The Mall will have about 20 stores and is scheduled to be in operation late this year. A second Mall is scheduled to begin construction of the new Six store in 1978.

WELCOME NURSES are the words inscribed on the cake held by members of a new 'Explores' post being formed and sponsored by St. Elizabeth Hospital. The post will have a nursing career specialty. The girls visited a meeting of Explorer Post 104 in Madison. From left, Alice Daniels, Ingrid Knappczyk, Sister Mary Michael, supervisor of the intensive care unit at the hospital and advisor to the new group; Rosie Gardner, Cindy Huelskoetter, Jack Small, president of 10-4; Cindy Snipes, Brad Crown, first vice-president of 10-4, and Laura Pickers.

Alumni Day at Stadium

July 14 will be Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville Alumni Day at Busch Memorial Stadium in St. Louis. A special section will be reserved for SIUE alumni.

At pre-game ceremonies, the first annual Outstanding Young Alumnus and Alumnus of the Year awards will be presented. SIUE alumni will be recognized with a notice on the announcement board.

Game time for the St. Louis Cardinals vs. the Atlanta Braves in 1:15 p.m. Following the game, a social hour for the alumni of SIUE will be held in the Stadium Club.

Reserved seat tickets are $3.50 each. Orders, with a self-addressed, stamped envelope and check, should be sent to the Alumni Office, Southern Illinois University, Edwardsville, by Friday. Checks should be made payable to the SIUE Alumni Association.

Long Lake fire district budget set at $36,275

A public hearing has been set for 1 p.m. Saturday, July 27, on a tentative Long Lake Fire Protection District budget for the period May 1, 1974, to April 30, 1975. The district finances and controls operation of the Long Lake Volunteer Fire Department.

The tentative budget, which now is on display in front of the fire station on Pontoon Road in Pontoon Beach, appropriates $86,275 for department expenses.

The estimated cash available for the year totals $87,688, including $10,000 in revenue sharing given the fire district by Nameoki Township, $15,868 cash on hand from the previous fiscal year and $62,000 from anticipation warrants issued during the year.

The participation warrants were made necessary when the district failed to file a tax levy with the Madison County Clerk before the deadline and thus will require no taxes during the fiscal year.

The budget appropriates $50 for administrative office equipment, $400 for legal services, $45,000 for the fire protection fund, $600 for trustees' salaries, $375 for convention expenses, $27,000 for capital expenditures, including $10,000 for equipment and $8,000 for the installation of additional fire plugs, $350 for rent, $500 for engineering expenses, $2,000 for a group life insurance fund and $10,000 to pay previous obligations.

Fund SIUE program

The School of Business of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville has received a $80,000 grant from the United States Office of Education to continue the work-study program called the Professional Experience Program (PEP).

William Bobo, director of PEP, said the grant would be used to strengthen and expand the program to benefit all students during the 1974-75 academic year.

Students in the program combine work and study during a five-year period to obtain a degree. The freshman year consists of four quarters of full-time study. The four following years consist of six-month periods of alternate work and study.

One SIUE student in the program has done his cooperative education work in management systems at the Monsanto Co. in St. Louis. According to Bobo, the program helps keep graduates from having to relocate to another part of the country, which in turn helps strengthen surrounding communities.

David Hartman to appear at free July 4 concert

A special July 4 celebration for metropolitan area residents will be held beneath the Gateway Arch beginning at 8 p.m. Thursday.

David Hartman, star of "The Bold Ones" television series and the upcoming "Lucas Tanner" series now being filmed in St. Louis, will narrate Copland's A Lincoln Portrait in a free All-American program to be presented by the Saint Louis Symphony Orchestra, conducted by Leonard Slatkin. A fireworks display will follow the concert.

American music to be performed in addition to "A Lincoln Portrait" will be the first Saint Louis Symphony performance of Turko's "A Joplin Overture" commemorating Scott Joplin and his ragtime music; Bernstein's "On the Waterfront" Suite and Sousa's Stars and Stripes Forever.

Hartman adds another facet to his versatile career in his performance with the Saint Louis Symphony. After graduating from Duke University with a bachelor's degree in economics, he enrolled in the American Academy of Dramatic Arts in New York where his studies included opera, ballet and jazz dancing.

Following his four seasons on "The Bold Ones", Mr. Hartman guested on "The Carol Burnett Show," made his television singing-dancing debut on "The Bing Crosby Christmas Show," and starred in the CBS version of "Miracle on 34th Street."

Recently he completed his starring role in Disney Production's "The Island at the Top of the World," and began production with his own company, Rodman-Dove Ltd., on a 30-minute medical special for "ABC's Wide World of Entertainment."

The July 4 concert at the Jefferson National Expansion Memorial is sponsored by the National Parks Service and Famous-Barr Co. and receives assistance of grants from the National Endowment for the Arts. The Missouri State Council on the Arts. Patrons are asked to bring lawn chairs or blankets. In case of rain the program will be given July 7 at 8 p.m.

Couple close studio after half-century of photography Festival will include wide variety of film

The Lester Jones Photographic Studio, 1924 Edison Ave., closed this month, ending more than 50 years of professional photography for Jones and his wife, Leila.

The couple now resides in St. Louis and have taken up the leisure life of artists, both painting in watercolors.

The Jones couple was widely known in the Quad-City area and took the majority of the school pictures in the local schools for many years.

W. L. Pierce rites held

Funeral services were held at the Fulton Mortuary Chapel, Beaverton, Ore., June 25 for William I. Pierce, 63, of 1515 N.W. 137th, Portland, Ore. Mr. Pierce died at his home on June 22 of a heart condition.

Mr. Pierce was born in Bloomington, Ill., March 7, 1911. He graduated from Venice High School in Venice, where he was active in basketball and was an Eagle Scout.

Mr. Pierce was the traffic manager for the Illinois Terminal Railroad and was transferred by his firm in the early 1950s to the West Coast. He first moved to California and then to Portland. He moved to his home in Beaverton in 1955. He retired from the railroad in November 1973.

He was a member of the Sunset Presbyterian Church, Transportation Club of Portland and of Eugene, Oregon Trail Model A Club, American Society of Traffic and Transportation, Inc., and Granite City Masonic Lodge 835.

Mr. Pierce is survived by his wife Thelma, whom he married in Madison, on Jan. 7, 1933. Also surviving are his daughters, Jean Smith of Portland and Edith Gray of Richland, Wash. His mother Anna Pierce of Champaign, Ill., one sister, Frances Squires of Los Angeles, Calif., and four grandchildren.

They had a studio in Effingham 19 years before opening the Granite City Studio. The majority of their work was in school photography.

Jones recalled, "My first flash photo was made by flash powder in a saucer. I would hold the saucer above my head, strike a wooden match, pitch it up in the air and if it fell on the saucer of the powder it would flash."

Flash photos and daylight photos, requiring a clamp to hold the subject's head still for the long time the shutter was open, were the only ways to take photos then, he recalled.

Class photos presented a problem, he said, "because there always was a fuss-budget who couldn't sit still. We sometimes had to take 10 pictures or more because some class clown would always stick out his tongue."

Flash powder had its problems too. "We always had to have someone when we took pictures inside, to open all the windows immediately after the picture was taken so the smoke could get out. That was before they came up with flashless powder."

One time, in Effingham, the couple was taking a photo from a balcony and the flash powder went off while Jones was leaning over the camera. He got white eyebrows, hair, hands and face. "Photography in those days was really dangerous," Jones recalled.

Studio had to have a skylight in those days to allow light into the area where the photos were taken. "My father once bought me a photographic tent. Very elaborate, with a skylight on each side."

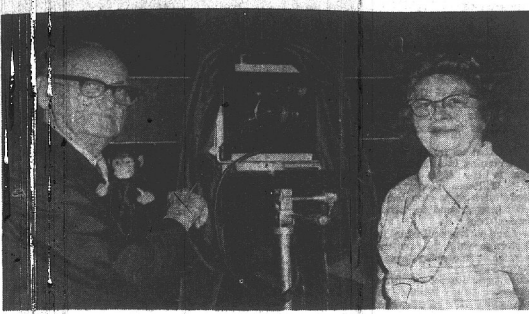

He said he would travel by train to small towns and set up the tent with the help of the children in the town. He never lacked for volunteers, he said. "When you arrived on the train with that tent, you were either the medicine man or the photographer, which was really something then."

Jones came from near Baton Rouge, La., and met Mrs. Jones at the Illinois College of Photography at Effingham, where they both were students. He served his apprenticeship in Chicago and returned to Effingham when an uncle of Mrs. Jones offered to loan them the money to set up a studio there on his tongue.

"I pawned my field camera to get train fare to Effingham and when I arrived, Leila had a contract to take school pictures and neither of us had a camera."

They ordered a camera collect-on-delivery and attempted to find the money to pay for it. The camera, he said, before they had raised the money, they went to their studio and found the camera on the doorstep. The postman had left it without collecting for it.

"We took the pictures and quickly sold the copies door-to-door so we could get the money and run down to the post office and pay for the camera," he related.

ONE LAST PICTURE by Lester and Leila Jones, school photographers here for many years. The couple ended a career of photography spanning more than 50 years when they closed their studio in Granite City this month. (U.C. Richardson Photo)

Jones was one of the first photographers to enlarge a photograph of an automobile, before most people had seen one, and he traveled around taking pictures of people behind the car, looking like they were driving it.

The prop was complete with a roadway painted behind it. "It looked very realistic," Jones said. "Another prop which was very popular was Magie—a life-size pasteboard photo of a lady in an evening gown. He would take photos of young men with their arms around the shoulder of the cutout."

"Down in the country towns, she was considered very immoral, but she was not—I always contended she was a society lady," Jones related. "Magie paid my hotel bill many times—$1 per day," he added. "Once a real large lady, all muscle and weighing about 250 pounds, came rushing in the tent and yelled, 'Where is that hussey that had her picture taken with my husband?'"

"She yelled, 'Get her out here. I am going to wallop the daylights out of her.' She left screaming about her husband, 'I'll kill him for this. I often wondered if he lived or died,'" Jones said.

A wide variety of films will be presented during this summer's Mississippi River Festival at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

The film series will be shown seven Monday evenings at 8:30 p.m., beginning July 8, under the MRF tent at the Outdoor Performing Arts Facility.

According to Jan Strout, assistant program director of the SIUE University Center Board, the major purpose of the MRF Film Festival is to assist in the development of the MRF as a "truly cultural festival, encompassing a variety of art forms."

Films to be presented are in the areas of foreign, experimental, animated, American and international classics, rock musicals and documentaries.

The schedule includes: July 8, rock musicals, "Woodstock"; and "Journey Through the Past" (featuring Neil Young); July 15, international directors, "Seventh Seal" and "The Magician"; July 22, animated films, "Zagreb Festival," "Yellow Submarine," "Why Man Creates," and "Dot and the Line."

July 29, documentaries, "Visions of Eight" and "Battle of Algiers"; Aug. 5, Humphrey Bogart American classics, "Casablanca," "Maltese Falcon," and "African Queen"; Aug. 12, experimental film, "Scarecrow in a Garden of Cucumbers" and "The Virgin President"; Aug. 19, Holocaust films, "Dr. Strangelove," "Fall Sale," and "Seven Days in May."

General admission will be $2 per person each evening, or movie goers may save 22 percent over single ticket prices by purchasing a season ticket to the seven showings for $11.

Mail orders for the film series should be sent to the University Center ticket office, Southern Illinois University, Edwardsville, Ill., 62025, or tickets may be ordered by calling the SIUE ticket office at 1-892-2223. Tickets also are available at the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce and American National Bank in Granite City.

Meat price cuts hit farmers

The Illinois economy might lose as much as $1 billion in gross product generated by the livestock industry because of declining wholesale meat prices according to the latest figures from the Illinois Department of Agriculture.

"Our findings indicate that at the present rate, the economy in Illinois will be down $88.4 million of potential income this year," Director Robert J. "Pud" Williams predicted. He said the figure represents the livestock dollar changing hands six times (a standard economic expectation).

GRANITE CITY PRESS-RECORD
Mon., July 1, 1974 Page 12

According to Williams, the value of hogs and cattle is down considerably from one year ago. Hogs have decreased in value by $48.5 million, while cattle are down $66.6 million, he disclosed.

Williams said the situation could be improved and meat prices lowered if Congress would clamp controls on foreign meat imports and encourage supermarkets to reduce meat prices.

"I feel that an import quota on beef coming into the United States is the high priority item," Williams said. "The United States must stop being the dumping ground for other countries' beef."

Beef and pork are piling up in cold storage while the farmers who raise it are going broke, Williams said.

House Agriculture Committee members this week in Washington, D. C., were studying the reasons for decline in prices while, the price of meat at the store has not dropped significantly.

"Feeders have used up their equity," Williams said. "With no cash and nothing left to borrow on," he said, "they are being forced to sell feed lot cattle and even breeding herds to make money, and this is disrupting the market even more."

The price of feed grains to farmers has been steadily rising as increased fertilizer and other costs in that industry are passed on to the livestock feeder, according to Williams. Cow-calf operations are also feeling the squeeze he said. Feeders can't pay them higher prices for the calves, while the cost of producing a calf, ready for feeding, spirals steadily upward.

Feeders say they are not getting the high prices that housewives are complaining of paying in the supermarkets. They say that money is going to the retailer and the middleman and complain that the margin between what they are paid for finished animals and the price at the meat market had been growing while what they get goes down.

Williams said now is the best time for the consumer to buy pork and beef, both for personal savings and to stabilize the market to assure an adequate supply of red meat in the next few years.

"If the consumer is going to insist on red meat in the future," Williams said, "he is going to have to buy it now."

tickets for the original date of July 26, which has been changed, must exchange the tickets at the University Center box office of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. Tickets will be exchanged in person or by mail.

Unless the livestock man can be assured of some stability in the market, he is just going to go out of the business. If that happens, we are going to see the greatest meat shortage this country has ever seen," he said that the livestock industry will have to start promoting the consumption of meat in the same way pop bottlers get people to buy soft drinks. "And I think we have a much better case," he said. Meat is good for you and is really a bargain."

DOG SEVERINSEN, popular musician and television personality, and Tobey's Children, a singing group. They and the Now Generation Brass will open the pop concert series of the 1974 Mississippi River Festival Sunday, July 7, starting at 8:30 p.m. Persons having

Dental School at SIUE given council approval

The School of Dental Medicine of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville has been given "preliminary approval" by the Council on Dental Education of the American Dental Association.

The designation is an accreditation classification granted year by year approval until the new dental school becomes fully operational. It is a step higher than the "accreditation eligible" classification held by the school prior to an evaluation visit this spring by a committee from the Council on Dental Education. Dr. Stanley P. Hazen, dean of the School of Dental Medicine, said another accreditation visit is scheduled in March, 1975, and he is hopeful that the school's developing program will receive full approval at that time.

The first class of 24 students was admitted at the new dental school in September, 1972. Students attend 45 weeks per year, enabling them to complete the requirements for their professional degree in three years instead of the traditional four, which means the first class will be graduated in August, 1975.

A second class of 40 students began in September, 1973 at SIUE's Alton campus, the only dental school in Illinois outside Cook County.

A new starting date for the three-year course of study was adopted this year. The school's third class, also numbering 40 students, began orientation this week. Dean Hazen explained the starting date was changed from September to June to enable the class to graduate in June (1977).

Mitchell postal service continues

The U.S. Postal Service has renewed the lease for continued operation of the Mitchell Post Office at the Greenway Shopping Center in Chouteau Township, according to word received by Walter Sparks, Chouteau Township supervisor.

Sparks sought continuation of postal service at the Mitchell station after it was announced that the station would be closed July 1 when the present lease on the building expires.

New study shows stop signs take a high toll in terms of fuel and dollars

The issue of rapidly multiplying stop signs is not limited to Granite City or the Quad-Cities. St. Louis and other population centers also are debating the advantages and disadvantages of halting vehicular traffic at intersections.

At the June 17 Granite City Council session, Alderman Steve Basarich commented, "We put the stops in our ward because the people want them. The Chamber of Commerce is not going to tell me to take them down. All they're worried about is their way to the golf course."

A prayer breakfast group composed of businessmen and labor representatives had called attention in early June to the forest of stop signs that has grown here and that continues to spread.

The Chamber of Commerce was not involved in that report but on several occasions has encouraged adherence to some form of overall traffic plan, rather than amending traffic flow on a week-to-week basis without considering the overall impact of isolated decisions.

Those who advocate numerous stop signs cite the tendency of youngsters to wander out of their yards, and the desire of some young drivers to turn residential boulevards into racing "drag strips."

Traffic engineers, whose popularity rating is not high among local aldermen, argue that speed control is blocked by stop signs and should be handled by police patrols.

The engineers say stop signs should be utilized to create through-streets, and contend that the best solution for congestion is to move vehicles safely but without much intersection along designated corridors. When such corridors are blocked by stop signs at virtually every corner, the whole concept collapses, they assert.

Another factor is cited in the June 1974 report of the Auto Club of Missouri on "The Automobile and Our Lives." A study made by the club's Traffic and Safety Research Department concludes that "1,500,000 gallons of wasted fuel constitute just one of the costs paid by motorists in St. Louis for stopping at 44 intersections."

"Using costs based on Highway Research Board data, the study found that motorists were spending an additional 555,676 hours of travel time at these intersections, and paying out $1,623,565 in operating expenses due to the stopping and start-

Laws unfair to women's opportunities

To the Editor:
I have written to State Senator Sam Vadablene to express my feelings about the Equal Rights Amendment. As an attorney, I have found that women are hurt at every level by the present status of the law. They are not given fair opportunities to use their talents. They are often given the burden of raising the children and enough money to do so, and believe me, many women and men are unhappy at this state of affairs. I am a Democrat, as I believe the Democratic party stands for equal opportunity for all people. All the immigrant groups that have come to this country have been advanced through the Democratic party. I hope the Democratic party helps to wipe out this unconscionable situation.

Examples of women's lack of rights

To the Editor:
Only general assistance has been given to women in helping them attain equal pay for equal work. We need more and better government representation. Job discrimination against women is still rampant.

Women chemists with Ph.D. degrees earn less than male chemists with bachelor degrees. Men lawyers earn 20 percent more than women lawyers one year after graduation and ten years after graduation men earn 200 percent more. Women teaching in universities average $3,500 less than their male counterparts.

Women's work not only is low-paid but, usually, boring. Moreover, a woman is likely required to concede her dignity. Ask any secretary or waitress.

For women with opportunities to be better paid, the working world, sexual discrimination in the professions and graduate school become apparent.

Women who are employed in training, minute assembly work in factories because their hands are more skilled at detail work. But only men are taught brain surgery because it takes a steady hand.

Women account for 40 percent of those found on standard aptitude tests to have aptitude for engineering, and women make up 2 percent of the nation's engineers; 70 percent of all women with college degrees work in the health care industry. Of the 10,000 judges in the U.S. only 200 are women.

As for responsibility, we've had since Eve was created to coddle, cuddle, smooth, soothe and bind the wounds that man has inflicted on mankind.

We are the room mothers, den mothers, Sunday school teachers, playground supervisors, nurses, cooks and child care experts. We walk our feet off and collect millions for every imaginable cause from Cancer to Save the Seals.

But to this day, a married woman cannot sell her own socks and buttons. In most states, a working wife must get credit in her husband's name and, therefore, has no credit rating of her own.

A married woman's income does not fully count toward a couple's mortgage ceiling. A housewife may struggle all her life, but she has no credit for "earned" income under any pension or retirement or Social Security.

It is generally accepted nowadays that women have the ability and the right to improve this second-class status. And when powerful women admit to the problem, but devote their energies to lifting the myth of inability, I think it reflects their attitude of fear and reek of cynicism.

Survivors have suffered the most. But there are many who don't think the Equal Rights Amendment is the "lifting and lifting" bill but as a chance to shed old images and show the world they are more than just Amazon, breadwinner, domestic and Mammy.

Of course, change will affect the "rules of the game" or the games themselves. This appears to be too frightening for some women to think about. It is less frightening to simply close ranks, hold fast, and keep things the way they are.

There are millions of other women, however, who have kicked themselves out of the nest; who have cut the umbilical cord and are saying that they not only want new vision of man and woman, but a chance to become intellectual, political, vanguard beings who have voice in calling the shots.

They think the ERA will help them attain these things, and so do I.

More give to Presidential campaign

To the Editor:
I wish to thank you for the excellent report which you provided the Springfield District of Internal Revenue Service in offering tax assistance and assistance to the public during this year.

Most recently, during the tax filing period, we furnished more assistance to the taxpayer than ever before in our history.

The example, since the installation of the toll-free telephone service last Dec. 17, of taxpayer assistance personnel gave prompt and courteous information to over 200,000 people through the filing deadline of April 15, 1974.

In addition, our walk-in assistance program has been extended hours in all offices during evenings and on weekends. This enabled us to provide personal assistance to over 100,000 Illinois taxpayers.

Another program which had a significant increase this year was designations for the Presidential election campaign fund.

The number of taxpayers making designations this year increased to 14.8 percent, compared to last year's 3.1 percent.

This resulted in over $15 million being allocated to taxpayers at the next Presidential campaign fund this year where last year $3 million was allocated last year.

It is obvious to me that the success of these and many other programs is highly dependent on the continuing cooperation of the news media.

By providing a communication link to the public, you have, by your service, enabled IRS to provide a needed service to the taxpayer. Thank you again.

Brands capitalism as biggest crime

To the Editor:
Capitalism and its state are in a tizzy over what to do about the rising incidence in illegal crimes.

They are afraid that they may be a victim, but it is capitalism itself that by far commits the biggest crime on earth.

Capitalism itself is based on the robbery of the workers. The Socialist Labor Party maintains that we, the workers, must organize at the ballot box and in the workplace to bring capitalism and institute the Socialist Republic of Labor.

The address of the Socialist Labor Party is Box 200, Brooklyn 2, N.Y.

Privacy on peril

To the Editor:
The Federal Bureau of Investigation has started on a New Jersey, high school girl who wrote at her teacher's suggestion to the Young Socialist Alliance in New York for information for a term paper.

He also pointed to a seriously ill city district attorney's "medical record word for word" in a newspaper on the day of his admission to a hospital, and an Illinois survey indicating that most schools withhold children's school files from parents but open them to police, university researchers and even other students working for the school administration.

Percy said one provision of the legislation would require government agencies and private organizations to notify individuals when a personal file is started on them.

They would also have the right to forbid the release of personal data to other organizations and agencies.

Percy conceded that the measure would raise serious legal questions that have not been resolved about access to private information, but he "hoped" the committee in debate could draft an "effective and fair law."

Sen. Percy's measure requiring notification to individuals who are the subject of files raised the question of how newspapers could operate their " morgues," or libraries, of clippings and background information on persons in the news.

An aide said it is recognized that the communications industry must keep extensive files and that it is proposed to exempt them from the notification requirement.

government data banks. Littered with diverse information on just about every citizen in the country," Ervin says in his subcommittee report.

The 34 agencies surveyed were district offices, containing more than 1 1/4 billion records on individuals, but I suspect there are many more we haven't found," Sen. Ervin comments.

The report notes that more than 86 percent of the federal data banks are computerized. Only a "relatively small number," about 29, are concerned primarily with "degradatory information."

These include agency blacklists, lookout files, intelligence and civil disturbance files kept by such agencies as the Departments of Agriculture, Justice, Defense, Treasury, Housing and Urban Development, as well as the Small Business Administration and the General Services Administration," the report says.

Only 10 percent have been specifically authorized by law. Most are created "under general housekeeping authority, or as means of deterring, authorized programs."

Sen. Percy said it is this lack of statutory authority, for one thing, that troubles the sponsors of the legislation.

"We'd like to know from the government agencies what they have and what they need to keep files," Percy told a news conference.

He said that "invasions" of personal privacy "are fast becoming the rule, not the exception, in American life."

Among abuses he cited was a Federal Bureau of Investigation file started on a New Jersey, high school girl who wrote at her teacher's suggestion to the Young Socialist Alliance in New York for information for a term paper.

He also pointed to a seriously ill city district attorney's "medical record word for word" in a newspaper on the day of his admission to a hospital, and an Illinois survey indicating that most schools withhold children's school files from parents but open them to police, university researchers and even other students working for the school administration.

Percy said one provision of the legislation would require government agencies and private organizations to notify individuals when a personal file is started on them.

They would also have the right to forbid the release of personal data to other organizations and agencies.

Percy conceded that the measure would raise serious legal questions that have not been resolved about access to private information, but he "hoped" the committee in debate could draft an "effective and fair law."

Sen. Percy's measure requiring notification to individuals who are the subject of files raised the question of how newspapers could operate their " morgues," or libraries, of clippings and background information on persons in the news.

An aide said it is recognized that the communications industry must keep extensive files and that it is proposed to exempt them from the notification requirement.

The other end of the life spectrum finds many citizens in nursing homes which are supervised by the department to determine the standard of patient care.

Even in mundane statistics the team of Rich and Mary find some "funnies."

Talking of birth registrations reminded them both of the troubles they had with the King of the Bimbos.

Surely they were putting me on? "That sounds like something out of a Disney movie," I scoffed.

"Nope. He's for real! He is the head of a tribe of Gypsies (Romany) and he resided in efforts to have births in the tribe recorded until he discovered that his people had to have proof of birth before they were eligible to receive public aid," Mary explained.

The number of areas which the department enters in mind-boggling. It supplies physicians with vaccines for polio, measles, rubella, diphtheria, tetanus, (lockjaw), pertussis (whooping-cough).

It oversees the care of "premies" (babies born before full-term development); sets up and supplies information to the poison control centers; inspects swimming pools for bacteria, cyanide, and turbidity; mounts intensive campaigns to get blood donors; informs about hazardous substances in living quarters for sources of lead poisoning; tests appliances for emission of harmful amounts of radiation; and, a time consuming task, inspects septic tanks to determine if they meet health standards.

One-third of all the housing in the state is serviced by septic tanks rather than sewers. This includes one-half of all new housing.

In addition to other duties, Mary edits the "Health Messenger," a trade magazine published by the Department of Health.

Rich and Mary feel that their best campaign has been the "immunization awareness" program concerning polio, and the voluntary blood donations campaign.

The "Public Relations News," the most widely circulated national weekly magazine in its field, featured a lengthy case study of these two campaigns in its latest issue.

Walker has become a 'nice guy'

By Iken Watson
Press-Record
Springfield Bureau

Suddenly, Gov. Dan Walker has become "a nice guy."

In one 24-hour span he spoke glowingly of an old political rival, Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley, and pleased some worried legislators by announcing he would sign their pay raise bill, if it passed.

Not only were legislators in line for pay raises, but also many Walker administrative aides and other employees as well as the governor himself. Also in the final and critical week of the spring-summer legislative session, scores of administration budget bills were coming up for final decision.

By offering the olive branch to the lawmakers, Walker boosted the chances of winning approval of many marginal bills.

Nevertheless there is a feeling at the Capitol that Walker's new posture of sweetness and light has a significance beyond the legislative windup.

Walker, it is speculated, has reassessed his political future and decided he must concentrate on firming up his home-state base. Despite some obvious efforts to create a national "image," Walker has failed to excite hopes for interest outside of Illinois and any prospects of landing a place on the 1976 Democratic national slate, perhaps as a vice presidential candidate, are rated as about nil.

Before Walker can move past Illinois Senators Charles H. Percy and Adlai E. Stevenson on the national stage, he is going to have to compile a record of achievement as governor and win re-election in 1976.

Both might take some doing. The Walker record as governor after a year and a half in office is still about zero. Up to now he has generally been at odds with the legislative leadership not only of the dominant Republicans, but with his own Democrats as well.

His staff has displayed a deplorable inaptitude in the day to day workings of the legislative process, delaying, for example, until the final two weeks of the session to bring in coal resource development bills.

GRANITE CITY PRESS-RECORD
Mon., July 1, 1974
Page 15

Leadership on school funding, highways, welfare and other issues have come not from the governor's office but generally from the Republican legislative leadership in the House and Senate.

Walker's apparent shift from a stance of antagonism to praise for Mayor Daley obviously has both legislative and political ruses. The governor can no longer afford alienating Daley's significant Democratic representation in the legislature.

More important, he is going to need the all-out support of the mayor's still potent Chicago machine if he is to stand any chance of turning back Republican Atty. Gen. William J. Scott in the 1976 gubernatorial race.

At the Statehouse there are ample signs that the Walker forces are deeply concerned about the Scott threat. Regardless of what debate that may occur in November, the Illinois Republicans are expected to come back strong in 1976.

Following as in the past behind what is recognized as an exceedingly strong governor prospect in the attorney general.

If the Democrats remain divided, as is now the case between Walker and Daley again, Scott would be heavily favored to oust Walker, even if the latter should escape a primary challenge.

With the 72-year-old Daley fast recovering from a mild stroke prevailing opinion has again shifted and odds now favor another run for mayor next year. He may well receive most oratorical boosts from the governor.

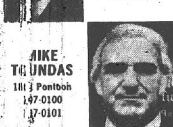

It is becoming increasingly clear that Dan Walker needs Dick Daley a lot more than Dick Daley needs Dan Walker.

AUGUST BRIDE-TO-BE, Miss Deborah E. Campbell, whose betrothal to David H. Hodges is being announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Campbell, 2345 Arnold Drive. An Aug. 3 wedding is planned.

Miss Campbell to wed in August

The engagement and approaching marriage of Miss Deborah E. Campbell and David H. Hodges are being announced by the bride-to-be's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Campbell, 2345 Arnold Drive. Formal announcement of their betrothal was made last week at a dinner party at Charlie's Restaurant.

Miss Campbell, a 1969 graduate of Granite City High School, also graduated from the Granite City School of Beauty Culture. She is a granddaughter of the late Rev. James H. Campbell, former pastor of the First Church of the Nazarene in Granite City.

Her fiancé, a native of Philadelphia, Pa., is employed as general manager of Mathews Chevrolet Co. He was educated at Pennsylvania schools and completed service in the U.S. Marine Corps with the rank of staff sergeant.

The couple will be married on Aug. 3 at St. Paul's Church of the Nazarene, 4300 Maryville Road, in a 6:30 p.m. candlelight ceremony.

MOTORCYCLIST HURT
Richard D. Finley, 23, of Belleville, was admitted to St. Elizabeth Hospital at 6:30 p.m. Thursday, suffering bruises to his left shoulder and both knees and pains to his back. Finley was injured when the motorcycle he was riding collided with an auto driven by Deborah K. Ulitchan, 1518 Fifth St., Madison at Plum Street and McCambridge Avenue.

$40,000 research grant to SIUE

Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville has been awarded a $40,000 grant from the U.S. Army Research and Development Command to research "The Mechanisms of Drug Action on African Trypanosomes" (sleeping sickness).

Covering a one-year period beginning July 1, the grant represents the first externally funded interschool research project to be conducted jointly by the department of biological sciences of the SIUE School of Science and Technology and the department of pharmacology of the SIUE School of Dental Medicine.

Members of the research team include: Arthur C. Zahalsky, professor of biological sciences and project director; David G. Brown, assistant professor of pharmacology and co-investigator; Marilyn N. Zahalsky, research associate and co-investigator; Richard L. Weinberg, a recent SIUE graduate who received his M.S. in the field of immunoparasitology, research technician, and Valerie Ruppert, graduate research assistant.

According to Prof. Zahalsky, the collaborative project will provide opportunities for some graduate and Dean's College students to receive training in the combined fields of biochemical parasitology and chemotherapy.

Other members of the parasitology and tropical diseases research laboratories whose investigations contribute to the general research program include: Prof. Donald G. Myer, chairman of the biological sciences department; Alenje Adeyiga, a graduate student from Nigeria; and Joyce Erb, undergraduate assistant.

African trypanosomiasis, or sleeping sickness, is a disease caused by a protozoan parasite that invades the blood stream of man and animals. It is transmitted by the bite of the tsetse fly, a vector not found in North America.

Trypanosomiasis, which can be fatal to man and domesticated animals, is found throughout Africa, especially along rivers and streams in the plains regions of East, West and Central Africa. "Although the organisms responsible for the disease have been known since they were first described in 1907, there are still few drugs available today to treat the disease," Zahalsky explained.

According to Marilyn Zahalsky, current treatment of sleeping sickness relies on the use of a handful of compounds whose action on the parasites within the infected individual are poorly or not at all understood.

The main objectives of the SIUE research group are to investigate basic biochemical mechanisms underlying the curative ability of some drugs that are used clinically in the field and to evaluate evidence which may result in the more rational design of chemotherapeutic agents effective against parasitic diseases, Prof. Zahalsky said.

4 honored at SIUC program

Two students from Granite City were cited for outstanding academic achievement and two others received special awards at the Southern Illinois University at Carbondale annual Honors Day ceremonies.

Cited for scholastic averages above 4.5 on a 5 point scale were David P. Anderson, 2018 Victory Drive, and Patricia Hursey, 5 Lexington Court.

Receiving scholarships offered by the Granite City Scholarship Foundation, Inc., were Laura Tadlock, 1517 St. Clair Ave., and Timothy Zotti, 3026 Willow Ave.

More than 2,200 undergraduates at SIUC were honored during the event.

Gold card for Mrs. Sanders

Mrs. Dolores Sanders, junior past president of Eagles Auxiliary 1126, was presented a gold membership card at the auxiliary's business meeting last week at the Eagles Home on Madison Avenue. Mrs. Helen Frazier made the presentation. Mrs. Billie Schuler, president, was in charge, with plans being made to sponsor a "Country Store" project in September to benefit various charities. Special honors were accorded to members of the ritual team for "outstanding work" at the Eagles Auxiliary state convention. Also recognized and honored were escort team personnel. Refreshments were served by Marian Ropac, Julia Mainor, Cora Barr and Frances Lux. Prizes for the evening were awarded to Phyllis Seka and Betty Lyons.

Bi-State selects director

Robert J. Baer, 36, executive assistant to St. Louis County Supervisor Lawrence K. Roos and a graduate of Southern Illinois University, was selected by the Bi-State Development Agency as its executive director prior to the agency's public board meeting Thursday.

Commissioners also adopted a $33 million budget for the Bi-State Transit System for the new fiscal year, starting today, which includes anticipated revenue subsidies of $3.2 million from Illinois and an estimated $14.7 million from the sales tax now in effect in St. Louis County and the city of St. Louis toward operating expenses.

It was learned the Bi-State board authorized a selection committee, headed by Roy J. May, an Illinois commissioner, to negotiate a contract with Baer at the executive session. The appointment was not formally announced at the public meeting, however.

The three-member screening committee was appointed about a month ago to find a successor to Elmer W. Belev, the Bi-State executive director who resigned March 29. It was reported that two other persons, both St. Louisans, were interviewed personally by the screening committee.

Under Belev, the executive director's salary was $25,000. Baer's salary with St. Louis County is more than $28,000 annually and he has the use of a county automobile.

Baer has held a number of top executive positions in St. Louis governmental agencies. He became Roos' chief executive assistant in 1971.

The Illinois Senate last week approved the Downstate Public Transportation Act, a bill which includes $12 million for Bi-State. The bill must go back to the Illinois House for concurrence in a Senate amendment and then will be sent to Gov. Dan Walker for his signature.

The new budget predicts $33,756,000 in anticipated revenues and $33,695,000 in expenses, or about $6 to $7 million more in each case than the projected final figures for the current year.

Commissioners also adopted a capital improvement budget appropriating $22,593,000 to improve the bus system. Most of the money is expected to come from federal and state grants, including a $14.8 million grant from the Urban Mass Transportation Administration. The funds would be used to buy 240 buses, plus shelters and other system improvements.

In other action Thursday, the commissioners approved a 7.7 per cent operating budget increase for Bi-State Parks & Airport, estimating total revenue at $252,490 and expenses at $194,970.

They also approved a tentative capital improvement budget for Parks Airport that lists $42,200 in estimated expenditures, including hangar roofs and concrete repair.

Two men face theft charges
Berlin Baldwin, 30, and Horace Butler, 30, both of St. Louis, were charged with theft after Venice police stopped Baldwin's car on Broadway in front of Venice High School at 8:30 p.m. Friday. In the front seat of the car, between the two men, was a stolen electric typewriter, police alleged.

Fifteen minutes earlier, a man had entered the office of Mercer Mortuary, 1416 Niedringhaus Ave., and officials there said they left the office for a moment. When they returned, they saw the man running toward a car. He had a typewriter from the office under his arm, police were told. A description of the car and its license number were radioed to all area police departments. The description was used by Venice in identifying the car and making the arrests.

topic of his talk—"What Have You Contributed to Your Community?"

Installed with Guest were: Mrs. Pearl Jackson, vice-president; Mrs. Beatrice Thomas, secretary; Mrs. Minnie Giles, assistant secretary; Mrs. Maggie Green, financial secretary; Mrs. Florence Lee, assistant financial secretary; Mrs. Odessa Bridges, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Josie Boyd, treasurer; Mrs. Zula Harris and Mrs. Irene Vernon, kitchen and food chairmen; and Mrs. Myra Harris, chaplain pro tem, representing the Rev. A. T. Jefferson, who was ill and unable to attend.

Baby shower honors Mrs. Mickey Copen

Pink and blue appointments were used on the refreshment tables at the Amvets Post 51 clubhouse Thursday evening for a cradle shower honoring Mrs. Mickey Copen.

Hosting the event was Mrs. Marie Freise, who served a dessert course and directed games. Prizes were awarded to the winners and guests were presented with mint cup favors.

Guests included: Mesdames Margie Smith, Betty Wilkins, Charleen Sanders, Sharon Barton, Vickie Woodworth, Miss Norma Freise and John Robert Woodworth Jr., Rexie Manning, Jeffrey Wilkins and Bennie Sanders.

Grady-Young wedding at Calvary Baptist

Miss Shirley Young and John Grady were united in marriage in an afternoon ceremony on June 22 at Calvary Baptist Church, followed by a reception in the church fellowship hall. The Rev. Al Slayter officiated at the double ring service at 2 o'clock. Nuptial selections were provided by the organist Miss Brenda Bivens, and the soloist, Mrs. Brooks Holder. Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Ray E. Young, 2975 Washington Ave. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Grady, 3025 Warren Ave.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a floor length gown of white silk organza made with long sleeves. Her melody length veil was held in place by a Chantilly lace headpiece, embellished with seed pearls, and she carried a bouquet of spring flowers.

Maid of honor Miss Linda Grady, a cousin of the groom, and bridesmaid Mrs. Dennis Morris, the groom's sister, were gowned alike in yellow dotted Swiss frocks.

Their gowns were designed with Empire bodices, long sleeves and full length skirts. Each attendant held a basket of white daisies and wore a white picture hat.

Satin jumpers with yellow floral blouses were worn by the two flower girls, Christy and Michell Cornett. Each had a yellow ribbon in her hair and carried a basket of rose petals.

The groom selected his brother, Bill Grady, as best man, Jerry Young, a brother of the bride, was groomsmen.

Joe Dallas and Dennis Morris, the groom's brother-in-law, escorted the guests to their seats.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Young chose a rose colored knit dress. The groom's mother, Mrs. Grady, was at-

Escapee captured in area

One of two men who allegedly escaped after overpowering a Sangamon County sheriff's deputy near Collinsville June 23, was captured at 5:56 p.m. Thursday by a Madison County sheriff's deputy at the Bend Road Fire Department.

He was Howard Elston, 22, of Springfield, who allegedly escaped with Gary Daily, 23, also of Springfield. Elston was seen at 7 a.m. Thursday by the firehouse, a resident of the area reported. The resident said he called the sheriff's department and said he thought Elston was inside the building, but a car was not dispatched until later when Charles Crow, 812 Layton Road, also reported seeing Elston near the fire department.

Deputy Donald Aebischer entered the fire station and found a man inside who said he was Robert T. Lamont, 56, of Kentucky. Aebischer took a .22 caliber pistol from the man, handcuffed him and placed him in the squad car.

The deputy was enroute to return the man to Edwardsville, when the prisoner began asking many questions about the escape of Daily and Elston. When the police car was at Sixth Street and McCann-Wedge Avenue in Madison, the man said he was Elston.

Aebischer radioed headquarters and was told to take Elston directly to the Madison Police Department until more deputies could arrive to assist.

Elston was questioned at Madison about one hour before being taken to the Madison County Jail at Edwardsville. Officers said Elston was tired and hungry and was still wearing his jail clothing when he was captured.

Daily and Elston allegedly escaped from the Sangamon County sheriff's deputy after slipping out of their leg shackles and setting fire in the back seat of the police car which was taking them from Springfield to Menard Prison at Chester.

When the deputy opened the rear door of the car to extinguish the fire, he was overpowered and his service revolver taken, it was reported. They took the deputy to the home of Mrs. Margaret Stewart in Collinsville and handcuffed the deputy and Mrs. Stewart to an armchair before taking her home, taking cash and leaving in her car, according to officials. The auto later was found abandoned at Spruce and Clark streets, St. Louis. The keys still were in the ignition and a small police club and a black briefcase were found inside. Papers in the briefcase belong to Daily, it was reported. A Madison County grand jury

Thursday returned indictments against Elston and Daily, both charged with armed robbery and escaping from custody. Bond was set at $200,000 each. Daily remains at large and last was believed seen near Springfield.

M. N. Roland dies at home

Marshall Ney Roland, 67, 1914 S. Keen St., Madison, died at his home at 10:35 a.m. Friday after suffering a sudden heart attack. An inquiry was conducted by Madison County Deputy Coroner Lucy M. Lucido and found an acute coronary occlusion as the cause of death.

Mr. Roland was born in Arkansas and resided in the Quad-City area about 50 years. He retired 22 years ago from the Castings Division of General Steel Industries where he was a coremaker 26 years.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Alta Roland; two daughters, Mrs. Richard (Pauline) Bechtel of St. Louis and Mrs. Charles (Bonnie) Hunter of Granite City; a brother, Gerd Roland, and a sister, Mrs. Della DeClue, both in Arkansas; 14 grandchildren, 24 great-grandchildren and two great-great-grandchildren. Funeral arrangements may be found in today's obituary column.

Mrs. Evelyn Burton earns work award

Mrs. Evelyn F. Burton of Mitchell has been presented a Sustained Superior Award by the U.S. Army Troop Support Command, St. Louis. The award cited her proficiency as a program analyst in the Directorate of Management Information Systems. Prior to her employment with the Army she was project manager of the Garsche Homes in Madison for the Madison County Housing Authority.

Andre Jones sentenced to 4-12 yrs.

Andre Vernell Jones, 17, of East St. Louis, has been sentenced to 4 to 12 years in a penitentiary after he pleaded guilty in Madison County Circuit Court of armed robbery. He stole $200 from Benjamin Honorable during a robbery at American Legion Post 799, at 1045 Douglas St., Venice, Feb. 25. Two other men also are charged with participating in that robbery.

Jones was sentenced by Circuit Judge John Gitchoff. Also in Madison County Circuit Court, Robert John Abernathy, 17, of the 1500 block of Fifth Street, Madison, has been sentenced to serve two concurrent one to three year terms in prison after pleading guilty to the theft of the auto of Charles Abel, Collinsville, on Oct. 21, 1973, and theft of the motorcycle of Loren Wilson, 2605 E. 25th St., Oct. 9, 1973.

Abernathy was sentenced by Circuit Judge Victor Moores. A Madison County grand jury Thursday returned a true bill against Carlos Richmond, 23, of the 200 block of Weaver St., Venice, on a charge of burglary. He allegedly entered the home of James Mersinger, 1677 Market St., Madison, Oct. 30, 1973.

Charges against James Ray Williams were returned in grand jury. He had been charged with attempted murder and aggravated battery against Terry Gargue.

Boost pension for teachers

Senator Sam M. Vadalabene, D-Edwardsville, reported Saturday that legislation adopted by the General Assembly last week increases pensions for thousands of retired teachers throughout Downstate Illinois, including a total of 175 teachers in the 56th Legislative District receiving less than $300 per month.

The bill provides a minimum monthly retirement allowance for all retired Downstate teachers of $10 per month for each year of service. This means that a teacher now retired who taught 30 years would receive a pension of $300 a month.

In the 56th District, there are 20 retired teachers currently receiving pensions of less than $100 a month; 68 getting more than $100 but less than $200; and 97 getting over $200 but under $300.

"The legislation can benefit thousands of retired teachers who are living on fixed incomes well below established subsistence levels," Vadalabene commented.

"The passage culminates several years of efforts by Downstate legislators and teachers to provide an adequate retirement income for those who devoted their careers to education, only to have their pension benefits eroded by severe inflation."

Army furthers education plans

Sgt. Tom Sparks, Granite City Army recruiter, said today that the Army is actively encouraging enlisted men and women to further their education during normal duty hours.

Sgt. Sparks said approximately 200,000 troops per year enroll in educational programs financed through the Army or the Veterans Administration.

"Many posts offer on-post educational programs and time off during regular duty hours to attend classes. Others are affiliated with nearby colleges, universities and vocational-technical schools," he said.

"There also are correspondence and extension courses available for those unable to attend regular classes. "The service can no longer be viewed as an interruption of a young person's educational goals. For many it can be an opportunity to achieve those goals while earning a very decent living," he added.

Levee board meets here on Wednesday

The regular meeting of the East Side Levee and Sanitary District board of trustees will be held in Granite City this month, it was announced Friday. The levee board session will be held in the Granite City offices of the levee district at 1707 Madison Ave., beginning at 10 a.m. Wednesday.

Even aspirin can be lethal to your toddler

SPRINGFIELD — A toddler just beginning to walk with confidence finds a bottle of interesting white tablets in mother's purse, where the candy sometimes comes from.

He'll die before he ever learns to run.

A 15-month-old following her bright, rolling ball finds it next to a paper container of little granules.

She'll never hold the ball again — unless it's buried with her.

It is a tragic irony that small beings are most curious when they are most defenseless, and curiosity kills more than cats. Curiosity, aided in many cases by carelessness, has killed 80 such small and not-so-small people in Illinois in the last five years.

"Poison" and the mind conjures up Agatha Christie and mysterious white powders which unseen hands slip into the duchess' warm milk.

There is nothing particularly mysterious in themselves about aspirin, or Darvon, a pain-killer; or methadone, used in treating drug addiction; about gasoline or garden chemicals or methanols. The hands which administer these "poisons" aren't lethal, they're just little, but unfortunately, they are unseen as they unscrew the cap, open the package, lift the lid.

The poison control program of the state Department of Public Health operates 101 designated poison control centers in the state, which last year treated 7,877 children under 13 years who had eaten or drunk or breathed something they shouldn't have.

There were 13 deaths (including four from carbon monoxide) from such causes. The carbon monoxide victims were older — 9, 10, 11 and 12. Those who ate or drank substances which killed them ranged from 13 months to not quite 5 years old.

Grimly, national estimates are that only one of every seven accidental poisonings is reported. If Illinois fits that pattern, there were actually more than 55,000 accidental poisonings of youngsters under 13 in 1973.

Dr. Byron Francis, head of the disease control division of the Public Health Department, says he thinks the overall picture in the state probably is better than the national average, since the 101 designated control centers largely blanket the state and make treatment more readily available.

The department has also been carrying on an educational program since the program was begun, in the 1960s.

Where only one in seven is reported, Dr. Francis says, the other six probably were treated by a physician at home or in his office, in a hospital emergency room, or a clinic. Or the parents may have tried home first-aid and lucked out.

"Luck" is the operative word when a nonprofessional tries to treat many poison cases, according to Mrs. Dolores Enrietto, who heads the poison control program. Inducing vomiting, for instance, can turn a serious situation into a fatal one by forcing the poisoning agent into the lungs.

When an accidental poisoning occurs, Mrs. Enrietto says, professional help should be sought at once. Information on location of poison control centers is provided by the department to telephone offices, and a call will tell the terrified parent or baby sitter what to do, or not do.

When the victim is taken to a center, the container from which he obtained the agent should be taken along, if possible. If not, the name should be noted. If known, as well as the amount, if possible, that was ingested.

Most common substances like aspirin pose little problem for a trained staff. But new pesticides, new household products, new cosmetics come on the market almost daily, while manufacturers bring out "new, improved" varieties of other old standards nearly as fast.

POISON CONTROL 2-year-olds most vulnerable victims

SPRINGFIELD — When a child is rushed into an emergency room, choking for air, screaming in fear and pain, or comatose, there is no time for guessing what he may have taken.

It was for these cases the Illinois poison control program was designed.

Previously, information about known toxic agents was kept on cards requiring bulky filing cabinets. Now, each of the 101 hospitals in the state which have voluntarily agreed to participate, is furnished by the department with microfiches which compact all the same information into a handy pocket-sized binder.

The fiches — tiny pieces of microfilm in a rigid card which contains raw after row of them, are nearly indestructible, and much faster to use.

Within a minute or two, the center knows what toxic agents, if any, are in the product the child took, and in many cases the fiche will also indicate symptoms and recommended treatments.

If additional information is needed, it probably will be found in a toxicological products reference book furnished by the department and kept near the viewer. Additional research facilities are available from the department in Springfield, by phone, if a really knotty problem arises, and centers also frequently call a manufacturer for a breakdown on the formulation of his product. Participating hospitals provide their own viewers, which cost from $75 up, depending on optional equipment like the ability to make an instant dry copy of the microfiche entry.

New, updated microfiches are sent to the centers quarterly by the department, primarily to show new products or altered formulas.

When help is sought promptly, Mrs. Enrietto's records show, most victims do not even require hospitalization.

A young poison victim has little in common with other victims except youth. Accidental poisonings occur at all economic levels, among all races and both sexes.

Most vulnerable are the 2-year-olds — just starting to get around well, just finding out what their little fingers can do to open things, just becoming curious about their world. They accounted for 3,008 cases, or more than 38 percent of the total, in 73.

Next numerous were cases involving 1-year-olds, and then comes the 3-year-old group. But 315 infants less than a year were treated, and 45 12-year-olds ingested poison by accident.

There were 2,982 males and 2,359 females among the 73 Downstate victims — but 87 boys were poisoned by cosmetic products, compared with 75 girls. Populous Cook County had 3,668 cases, still only 2.8 cases per 1,000 children under 13. Macou County, with only 31,276 kids under 13, and Peoria County, with 46,156, had 244 and 363 cases reported, giving each county a smudging 7.8 cases per 1,000 children.

What do they ingest? Just about anything. The baby who must be tricked into eating hisbeets, the youngster who spurns anything containing raisins, the pre-teen who thinks every food in the world must be dipped in chocolate bratsup — they all become much less flinching when foraging.

Mrs. Enrietto's figures show children regularly eat, drink or inhale: external medicines, internal medicines, household preparations, petroleum distillates, cosmetics, pesticides, gases, vapors, plants, paints, varnishes, lacquers, solvents and veterinarian products.

Another 464 youngsters poisoned themselves with such exotic items last year, they had to be listed merely as "other."

Much better than the best treatment, according to Dr.

NEWS ANALYSIS

Bakalis lowers salaries of eight OSP directors

$30,000.

SPRINGFIELD — If employee morale corresponds to salary, some administrators in Springfield's Office of Public Instruction (OSPI) are sinking.

Bakalis has reduced next year's salary for eight directors in his office. In these days of skyrocketing inflation, many employees are hoping for at least a cost-of-living increase to keep up U.S. standard of living. A salary reduction is a real blow.

And to make it doubly worse, Bakalis, should be a director to the post when he was in the new Board of Education, expects the superintendent they can pay up to $42,500.

The four top administrators in the office — called associate superintendents — may also receive hefty increases. Under the terms of a pending appropriation legislation, associate superintendents may be paid up to $40,000. The top limit is now

The four are: James Wilson, Vito Bianco, Michael Stramaglia and Jack Watson.

The purpose of the possible raises for the associate superintendents is so the next superintendent can bring with him his own management team. And to recruit the top people, OSPI must be competitive with suburban school districts.

Meanwhile, the eight directors are going to have an upper limit of $24,000. They are fourth in the pecking order behind the superintendent, associate superintendents and assistant superintendents.

Directors' salaries are being reduced because in several cases longevity factors have caused them to earn more than their immediate supervisors, a spokesman says.

The eight directors being reduced to $20,000 per month are:

Ron Allen, management and planning, $20,077; Bill Becker, office support services, $20,012; Fred Bradshaw, finance and claims, $20,048; Gordon Brown, alternatives education section, $20,060; Gloria Calovini, instructional materials center, $20,042; Tom Denny, scholarships, $20,062; Wayne Giles, adult and continuing education, $20,004; and Robert Ohlen, school funds, $20,033.

Despite cutting the salaries, it's only going to amount to a savings of some $4,000 per year. That may seem small indeed, should some legislator become angered over the salaries and decide to show OSPI where they might cut some more in their budget.

Meanwhile, there are other indications that the morale in the office is not the highest. Much of it can be attributed to the lack of security involved in the transition from an elective to an appointive office. At least three aides have resigned or are leaving.

Fred Rozum, assistant superintendent in the department for exceptional children, has resigned to take a position in Phoenix, Ariz., as director of that state's special education section.

Jim Shimmerhorn, assistant director for the budget section, has also resigned. He plans to do some traveling.

ILLINOIS OUTDOOR HERITAGE

(cercis canadensis)

The heart-shaped, toothless leaves of the redbud make it easy to identify. Found primarily in rich woodlands, this species is common in southern Illinois and in scattered northern Illinois counties. A small tree, the redbud reaches heights of 35 feet with a broad and flattened crown and a trunk diameter up to one foot. It occurs most readily under taller trees or on borders of fields or hillsides and in valleys. The bark is reddish-brown in color, separating into long plates and thin scales. The flowers of this tree are found on branches formed the preceding year and are rose-purple, pea-shaped, and about a half inch long. They appear as the leaves first begin to unfold in spring. The wood is hard, close-grained and dark reddish-brown in color. This tree has much value as an ornamental, because of its spectacular appearance when in flower. The largest known species in Illinois is 24 feet high, with a trunk circumference of 8 1/2 feet.

Illinois has the gas now it's a question of price

SPRINGFIELD — It's not whether or not you can find it, it's how much you are willing to pay.

That's the current fuel situation in Illinois according to an assessment from the Illinois Fuel Allocation Office.

Originally set up under the U.S. Department of Agriculture and Illinois Commerce Commission as a telephone hotline for agricultural fuel problems, the operation has been in existence about a year now.

It has been a part of a two-agency battle to solve the problems of the state's fuel distribution. The federal Energy Administration, Problems concerning fuel in any capacity are handled by the 21-member staff headquartered in Springfield.

Right now, there seems to be much a fuel shortage but a fuel distribution problem. Said Donald G. Handy, fuel allocation officer, "We are attempting to see that one community won't starve more than another one."

He distribution problems are far to lie within the existing structure, according to Handy. In a push to eliminate the "middleman," staff jobbers, distributors and retail service outlets are having more problems than their larger counterparts. "Price is playing a large part in the problem," he said. "The fuel is more available so many are shopping around for the best deal."

During May, the Hotline received 2,556 calls pertaining to fuel, allocated 13.1 million gallons of gas and 3.28 million gallons of distillates for a total of 16.59 gallons of fuel.

"During February, our office allocated close to 50 million gallons of gas," Handy said. "This was during the time when long lines were prevalent at most gas stations."

"We allocate gasoline to all parts of the state — including Chicago," he continued. "Most of our calls are from this area, because that's where most of the people are. However, there are no 'problem areas' at the present time."

Although fuel is more plentiful now than a few months ago, the office is prepared to act quickly should the trend reverse itself and rationing becomes necessary.

"If the embargo, which was lifted March 15, is put back on us, we could begin rationing within 30 to 60 days," he stated. "There was a lot of talk about rationing before, and the people were conservative fuel users. Now there has been a 'loosening up' of availability and the trend is getting away from conservation."

"The work is more detailed than just giving gas away," explained Handy. "We are into the legal ramifications of the problems."

"When the office first opened, everything was without precedent. But, we've settled down now, and we're able to allocate before the problem occurs."

Kaseberg resigns airport authority

Howard W. Kaseberg of Granite City has resigned from the St. Louis Metropolitan Area Airport Authority.

Kaseberg has served on the authority's board since its inception Aug. 26, 1970, and has been acting chairman the past year and one-half.

Kaseberg was presented a copy of a resolution prepared by the authority board, commending him for his service and his work in attempting to have the federal government approve funds for a new major bi-state St. Louis airport in Illinois.

Kaseberg, who was appointed to the board by Gov. Dan Walker, said in his resignation letter to Walker, "It has been my pleasure to be a member of the St. Louis Metropolitan Area Airport Authority since its inception and to be its acting chairman for the last year and a half."

"I consider it a rare privilege to have participated in one of the most exciting and important projects that the State of Illinois has ever launched. I have been privileged too, to serve on the authority with outstanding gentlemen."

"It is with deep regret, therefore, that I submit to you my resignation from the Authority, effective June 15, 1974. The press of personal business does not allow me to devote sufficient time to the work of the Authority."

Although I would have greatly enjoyed being an Authority member when final federal approval of the airport is granted, I feel that my resignation at this time will give a new member an opportunity to become familiar with the work of the Authority prior to the increased level of activity after final approval.

"It has been a source of great personal pleasure to me to have helped bring the airport to the threshold of fruition, and I am confident that the recommendation for approval by the Federal Aviation Administration will be embraced by the Department of Transportation," the resignation said.

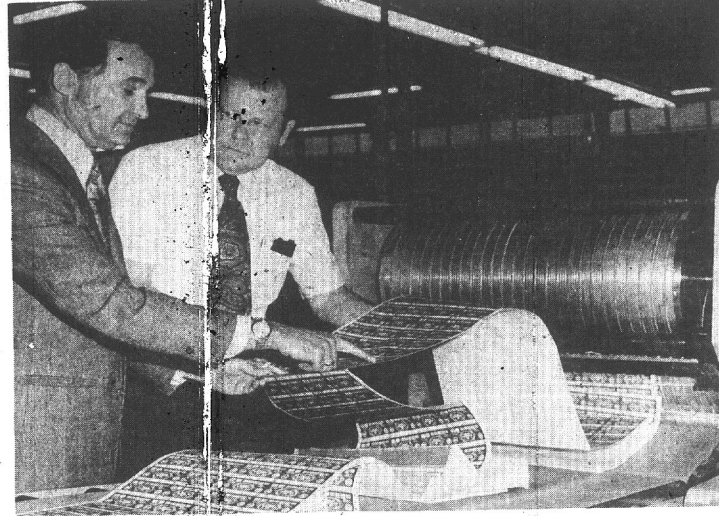

4 hurt in crash

Four persons were injured when the cars of Robert Melson, 2732 Saratoga Ave., and Morris Porter, 58, of 3120 Denver St., collided at West 20th and Spruce streets at 2 p.m. Friday.

Melson said the brakes on his auto failed when he tried to stop behind the Porter car, causing his car to strike the rear of Porter's auto.

Two passengers in Melson's car, Miss Linda Butler, 19, of 4801 Lake Drive, Foxon Beach, and Becky Starks, 20, of 3012 Denver St., were injured. Becky Starks declined hospital treatment. Miss Butler received treatment for abrasions to her right elbow and a contusion to her right shoulder.

For Mrs. Grace Porter, 55, also of 3120 Denver St., a passenger in his car, were taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital where both were released following X-rays and treatment. Mrs. Porter suffered injuries to her neck and right arm and Mr. Porter had pain to his back.

FIRST LOTTERY TICKET PRINTING Printing began this week on the first Illinois State Lottery tickets. Up to 10,000 state lottery agents throughout the state will begin selling the tickets on July 30, with the first drawing set for Aug. 8. Leo Sikes, left, lottery representative, and C. Kenneth Frantz of the American Bank Note Co., printer of the lottery tickets, examine the first tickets in the initial press run.

DOWNTOWN IMPROVEMENTS underway in Granite City include painting and remodeling of the exterior of Earl's Discount Store, 19th Street and Cleveland Boulevard, which began Thursday.

State mowing curtailed

Mowing of roadsides and adjacent areas in some of the state parks this year has been kept at a minimum, according to Tony Dean, director of the Department of Conservation.

"We are curtailing much of our grass cutting in the parks for two reasons," he said. "Firstly, it is a means of cooperating in the present fuel shortage by not only saving fuel but also economizing by lowering our gasoline costs."

Secondly, it is a wildlife conservation measure that protects nesting birds and animals. "Firstly, it is a means of cooperating in the present fuel shortage by not only saving fuel but also economizing by lowering our gasoline costs."

Regarding the latter, Dean pointed to a program of the department's Division of Wildlife Resources which seeks to provide "roadside refueling" for nesting birds and animals. Illinois area where nesting site needs are critical.

Engineer proposals sought

The Illinois Department of Transportation announced it is seeking proposals for needed consulting engineering services for various projects throughout the state.

The issuance of the notice for proposals is in keeping with the Department of Transportation's new procedures for engineering consultant selection. It is not an invitation for bids such as those for construction projects.

The new procedures require firms wishing to be considered for selection to be prequalified with the department to insure their abilities in accomplishing project objectives.

July 4 festival continues at GC park

Festivities at Wilson Park will continue through Thursday, culminating at 9 o'clock Fourth of July night with the traditional fireworks extravaganza. The six-day program opened Saturday.

Thousands of Quad-Cityans are joined each year by residents from many sections of the bi-state metropolitan area in viewing the colorful fireworks display. This summer's event is the 15th annual exhibition.

Carnival rides and local concessions stands will operate tonight and Tuesday from 6 to 11 o'clock and from 1 p.m. until 11 p.m. Wednesday and Thursday. A clown equipped with a camera will greet the youngsters from 2 to 4 p.m. Wednesday. Harold Brown, park superintendent said.

"Young people may dance tonight from 7:30 until 10:30 in the Wilson Park rink pavilion. Brown advised, and a band concert will be performed from 2 to 4 o'clock Thursday, after dark under the trees near the midway area.

A total of 266 large fireworks, ranging from the 9-inch ammonium bombs to 18-inch three-color changing Oriental shells, will be included in the 16 set pieces and special effects.

Displays will feature new exhibits, such as the Flight of the UFO's, to the traditional Niagara Falls.

Other displays are: Temple of Isis, Tree of Paradise, Flash Curtain of Fire, Wheel, Space Flyers (two-stage jets), Cleopatra's Fan, Two Fighting Cats, Davy Crockett Hunting Bear, Duck, Egg and Duckling, Rainbow Wheel, Flag, Rainbow Fountain, Flight of Buzzing Bees and Good Night.

Concessions stands operated by local civic, sports and youth groups will remain open for business during the same hours as the midway rides. Brown said. Food items and beverages, a dunkin' machine and handcraft work will be offered to carnival patrons.

Softball action continues from 6 p.m. to 10 p.m. Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday and from 10 a.m. until 6 p.m. Thursday in the round robin city tournament. Men's teams are playing at Worthen Park and the women's squads at Wilson Park, Brown said.

Evans renamed to KC post

Edward J. Evans of Granite City has been re-elected Faithful Navigator of Tri-City Assembly 1088, Fourth Degree Knights of Columbus.

Other officers elected are Rev. Fr. Sylvester Micek of St. Mary's parish, friar; Frank J. Gace, captain; Walter "Corky" Christiansen, comptroller; Philip J. Gruber, pilot; Frank Pare, inner sentinel; Kenneth Forti, outer sentinel; Henry "Vic" Kahn, purser; and Frank J. Krause, scribe.

Evans was initiated in November 1963 and took the Fourth Degree in April 1965. He is a past assistant chairman of the K.C. Shriners benefit program, a deputy grand knight and presently is a trustee in the Third Degree.

He is a foreman at Reilly Tar & Chemical Co. He said his program will be to have all 96 members participate in Fourth Degree activities and to strive for new members.
